7 Dallas Prisoners Escape; State Rests Ruby Prosecution

NEWS BRIEFS

Job Total Up; Jobless Up Too

WASHINGTON (AP) — Improved business conditions brightened the nation's job picture to a surprising degree last month, but failed to dent persistent long-term unemployment.

The Labor Department said Friday 800,000 more Americans held jobs in February than in January, due to a pickup in new orders in the steel, auto, construction and other industries.

The job increase was double that expected by government economists, and brought the nation's total employment to 68 million.

But the number of persons out of work remained at 4.5 million over the month, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported.

Scott, Clark Split On Farm Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Sen. Hugh Scott voted Friday with the majority as the Senate adopted 46-43 a farm bill amendment by Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La. to put a two-year limit on the cotton program. Pennsylvania's Democratic senator, Joseph S. Clark, voted against the amendment.

Both voted against the election year wheat and cotton bill when the Senate passed it later 53-35.

Nixon Would Accept VP Post

By The Associated Press

Richard M. Nixon broke with political tradition Friday by saying he would be willing to accept the Republican vice-presidential nomination again.

"As far as I'm concerned," Nixon said on the NBC-television "Today" program, "I'm making it clear that I'm not a candidate for president and not a candidate for vice president but I will do whatever my party asks me to do and I feel everybody else should, too."

Sinatra Case Goes to Jury

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Frank Sinatra Jr. kidnaping case went to the jury at 6:26 p.m. Friday after a U.S. judge commented that no direct evidence linked young Sinatra with the plotting of his abduction.

The defense contended young Sinatra cooperated in a publicity hoax. The government countered that the kidnaping was "a vicious crime pulled by rank amateurs moved by greed."

Burton to Marry Liz Taylor

TORONTO (AP) — Elizabeth Taylor and actor Richard Burton will wed somewhere in the United States in the next few days, a spokesman said Friday.

Miss Taylor and Burton remained in seclusion. Reporters talked to the couple Thursday night, but Miss Taylor just smiled and refused to say anything about her divorce from singer Eddie Fisher, awarded by a court Thursday in Puerto Vallarta, Mexico. Burton would say only that the divorce had been expected.

Judy Holliday Tax Lien Filed

NEW YORK (AP) — The federal government Friday filed a lien of $99,286 against stage and screen star Judy Holliday for income taxes the Department of Revenue claims are owed from her 1957 earnings.

Fighting Erupts In Malaysia

KUCHING, Malaysia (AP)—Indonesian guerrillas and Malaysian security forces fought on Borneo in a skirmish Friday that pointed toward hardening, if not expansion, of a Southeast Asian crisis eluding solution at the conference table.

Stock Market Hits 806

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market Friday followed two days of mild correction of previous gains with another advance in moderately active trading.

Volume remained at 4.82 million shares compared with 4.69 million Thursday.

The Dow Jones industrial average rose 2.26 to 806.03, equaling its all - time high. Industrials rose 1.4 to a new peak, rails rose .1 and utilities were unchanged.

Johnson Criticizes Cyprus Passions

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson agreed Friday with Soviet Premier Khrushchev that outsiders "should strive not to inflame passions" over Cyprus but rejected the Soviet criticism of the U.S. role in that crisis.

In a brief letter, Johnson replied to Khrushchev's Feb. 7 message in which the Soviet premier denounced the then-pending U.S. - British proposal to send a North Atlantic Treaty Organization peace - keeping force to Cyprus to halt violence between Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

The plan since has been shelved in favor of U.N. handling of the situation.

The Johnson letter, dated March 4 and released Friday, told Khrushchev "whatever may have been the motivations of the Soviet government, your message was based upon a seriously mistaken appreciation both of the situation in Cyprus, and of the aims of the United States" in the matter.

"The United States has been cooperating with the governments concerned, including the government of the Republic of Cyprus, for one purpose alone, that of assisting the Cypriots to restore a peaceful situation in Cyprus," Johnson wrote.

Johnson concluded his letter, which ran fewer than 200 words this way:

"I will, however, agree fully with one thought that you expressed. It is certainly true that avoiding the aggravation of the situation in the eastern Mediterranean is in the general interest of us all. We should all strive not to inflame passions from without. I can assure you that is the firm intention of my government, and I sincerely hope that it is also that of your government."

Scranton Urges Oregon To Drop Him

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Scranton Friday urged Oregon officials to keep his name off the state's presidential preferential primary election May 15.

But Scranton, who has been mentioned as a prospect for the Republican presidential nomination, declined to sign a disclaimer affidavit that would officially keep him off the ballot.

Scranton has said repeatedly he will accept a sincere and honest draft for the presidential nomination, but that he doesn't believe a draft will occur and that he had no personal ambition for the nation's highest office.

Oregon's law requires the state's Secretary of State to list on the preferential ballot any person prominently mentioned for nomination, unless that person signs a disclaimer. The Oregon official has the discretion to determine whether a person should be listed.

U Thant Names Indian General

UNITED NATIANS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary-General U Thant appointed an Indian general on Friday to command a U.N. peace force for Cyprus. But as violence persisted on that strife-torn island Thant ran into difficulty in recruiting troops for the force.

Greek and Turkish Cypriots battled for the third straight day in villages near the north coast harbor of Kyrenia. Casualties included two Turkish Cypriots killed and one injured and four Greek Cypriots injured.

Thant named Lt. Gen. Prem Singh Gyani, 53, commander of the peace force. Gyani now is in Cyprus as Thant's personal representative, but his appointment as commander is not to take effect until after the force is established.

King Paul of Greece

Paul Dies; Son Is Greek King

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—King Paul died Friday in the 17th year of his reign, struck down by a series of grave illnesses. His son, Crown Prince Constantine, 23, at once became the monarch of Greece.

The blue and white flag of Greece was lowered all over the nation in memory of 62-year-old Paul — from the villages to Athens' Parthenon, the great temple and symbol of the grandeur of ancient Greece.

As the nation plunged into mourning, Constantine dressed in a military uniform and left Tatoi Palace, where his father died, for the 26-mile drive into Athens to take his oath of office.

The great bells tolled at Metropolis, the Greek Orthodox Cathedral where Paul will lie in state. The other church bells took up the toll on this gray and chilly day as Constantine entered the capital.

Riding beside the dark and handsome new king was his his sister Irene, 22, who now becomes crown princess and next in line of succession to the throne. In a car behind was his fiancee, 17-year - old Princess Anne-Marie of Denmark, the future queen. They will wed in January.

Woman Kidnapped With Fake Gun

DALLAS (AP) — An escaped prisoner with a fake gun Friday kidnaped a woman hostage outside the courtroom where Jack Ruby is on trial for his life. Pandemonium broke out in the crowded corridor but there were no injuries and the man later was captured.

Caught in the midst of the incredible Texas drama were Mrs. Joy Belli, attractive wife of Ruby's chief defense lawyer, and Karen Lynn (Little Lynn) Bennett, pregnant 19-year-old strip teaser on her way to the courtroom to testify.

"Oh, my God, he's after me," cried the girl, who is three days overdue in her pregnancy. Mrs. Belli and Deputy Sheriff Rosemary Allen coolly shoved the blonde girl into a stairwell, and newsmen braced the door as added protection.

The man with the fake gun was Clarence D. Gregory, 20, held on armed robbery charges.

He was one of seven prisoners who broke from a sixth-floor prison dayroom about 3:30 p.m. Five of them fled the building immediately..

Gregory and Johnny Ray Jenkins, 31, another accused armed robber, left an elevator on the second floor, however. They walked into a corridor crowded with newsmen, on their way back and forth from the court to their pressroom, and with spectators seeking entrance to the trial.

Jenkins was seized and overpowered by Probate Court aides after Deputy Allen spotted the men and cried "Stop!"

Meanwhile, one of the aides, H. H. McKaye, grabbed Gregory.

About two hours later, a third prisoner was caught on the porch of a house about two miles from the courthouse. He was Hershell A. Crocker 26, sentenced to life for armed robbery.

Still another escapee was seized in an automobile some distance from the courthouse. He was Tommy Powell Calverley, 28, sentenced to 15 years for armed robbery. He offered no resistance.

Still hunted when darkness fell were Leonard F. Driggers, 28, charged with robbery and assault; Billy Ray Brock, 35, sentenced to 15 years for armed robbery; and Randolph R. Hudnall, 20, charged with armed robbery.

Officer Says Ruby Admitted Plot To Kill

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A police sergeant testified Friday that Jack Ruby admitted plotting for two days to kill Lee Harvey Oswald, because "I just want the world to know that Jews have guts."

"This was the reason he gave for shooting Oswald," declared the witness. And on that dramatic note, the state rested its murder case against Ruby. It still has some rebuttal witnesses on tap if needed.

Ruby is on trial for the slaying Nov. 24 of Oswald, who was accused of the assassination of President Kennedy.

The defense called its first four witnesses of the trial, before it was recessed until Monday morning. It was the first time since it opened that no Saturday session was scheduled.

In an amazing contrast to the state's last witness, the opening witness for the defense was Karen Lynn Bennett, a blonde, 19-year-old strip teaser, who danced for Ruby under the stage name of "Little Lynn."

Three days overdue in pregnancy, she rested in an anteroom, then walked to the witness stand, half supported by a defense lawyer.

The gist of Little Lynn's testimony was that she telephoned Ruby on Saturday, the day after Kennedy was assassinated, to ask why his Carousel Club was closed. She continued:

"Jack was very angry with me for calling. He said he closed the club Friday because of the President's death. He was very upset. He said, 'Don't you give a damn about the President? Don't you know the President is dead? I don't know if I'll ever open the club again.'"

Catholic Paper Hits Birth Control 'Leak'

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Catholic Standard and Times, Roman Catholic archdiocesan publication, said in an editorial Friday the state Department of Welfare is attempting to "load the dice" in favor of state-sponsored birth control and called on Gov. William W. Scranton to take a public stand on the issue.

The newspaper charged Welfare Secretary Arlin Adams "leaked" the Protestant viewpoint on birth control in the form of a statement from the Pennsylvania Council of Churches on the same day that "what might be called a Jewish viewpoint" was voiced by a Philadelphia welfare official.

The newspaper criticized Adams for stating he was "not sure" of the Catholic Church position of birth control now.

It said "the Catholic Church is not opposed to family planning; it recommends it, but the Catholic Church does believe that contraceptive control is immoral, contrary to the law of God, not just the law of the church."

Adams denied he had ever "leaked" any statement from the Protestant group.

"A newspaper reporter called me and asked what my position was regarding birth control," Adams explained. "I told him I talked with representatives of the four major faiths.

"I told him I had talked with the Protestant group, but I would not state their position. Thereafter, he called them and printed their statement."

IRS Drops Drive On Volunteer Fire Companies

WASHINGTON — The Internal Revenue Service has suspended audits and collection of taxes levied against volunteer fire companies, Rep. Fred B. Rooney said yesterday.

Rooney said the IRS action was a result of corrective legislation he proposed.

The action affects fund raising by volunteer fire organizations and other non - profit groups, including veterans and fraternal organizations.

Rooney introduced his bill, H.R. 10001, Feb. 17. It Is now in the House Ways and Means Committee.

The Bethlehem Democrat called the IRS action "extremely wise" and expressed hope for permanently exempting certain volunteer and non-profit organizations from income, cabaret and admission taxes.

Susquehanna Flood Threatens Cities

HARRISBURG (AP) — The normally placid Susquehanna River, bulging with freshly melted snow, caused moderate to locally severe flooding Friday in Northeastern and Central Pennsylvania.

Some secondary roads were closed and low-lying residential areas were flooded in the area around Williamsport, Milton and Danville.

Gathering momentum, the main stem of the river was expected to jump from Friday's level of 17.14 feet in Harrisburg to a flood crest of 18.5 feet tomorrow night. That would be one and a half feet above flood stage for the capital city.

Despite this prediction, the Federal-State River Forecasting Service said no catstrophe as in sight.

Robert Fish, Delaware River Master at Milford, said the Delaware was at a moderate level at 15 feet 9 inches at noon yesterday.

Flood fears abated in the western part of the state. The Ohio River rose two feet above Pittsburgh's flood stage of 25 feet, but no significant flood damage occurs as long as the Ohio stays under 30 feet in that area.

Weather officials said the sudden rise along the Susquehanna and its tributaries was caused by the high temperatures of the last few days. They caused the heavy covering of snow to melt quickly.

The rising flood waters brought the evacuation of some homes in upriver communities, including South Towanda Flats, Sugar Creek and Sayre.

Wilkes-Barre awaited a crest of 30 feet, some eight feet above flood state but still not at a level to create a serious emergency.

Rusk Condemns Neutralization Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk said Friday that talk of neutralizing Viet Nam—a proposal of French President Charles de Gaulle—tends to "undermine the morale of the South Vietnamese people" in their fight against Red guerrillas.

Rusk indicated his concern at a news conference as Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara winged toward Saigon to see why the antiguerrilla campaign is not going better.

The U.S. ambassador to France, Charles E. Bohlen, arrives in Washington on Saturday for conferences about diverging U.S. and French policies and Rusk said, "Southeast Asia will be a considerable part of our consultations with Bohlen before he goes back."

The U.S. foreign affairs chief said he knows of no specific De Gaulle plan for Southeast Asia bearing on the immediate grave situation there, nor does France seem to be trying to promote neutralization through agents or a coup in Saigon.

But he added: "I think that talk of neutralization which implies merely that the United States should withdraw its support of South Viet Nam does tend to undermine the morale of the South Vietnamese people, and we are not going to withdraw that support.

"We are committed to the freedom of that country and its people, and we are going to give them every possible assistance to sustain their independence.

Rusk saw "some validity" in the De Gaulle idea as a long-run proposition, but not now with Communist China and North Viet Nam openly supporting the Viet Cong guerrilla drive to take over South Viet Nam despite the 1954 Geneva agreement for independence and neutrality of the Southeast Asia states.

"The discussion of neuturalization has injected a certain confusion on points that should be very simple," Rusk said.

"If the North leaves Laos and South Viet Nam alone there can be peace in that area and these countries need not be formally aligned with anyone, any side.

"But until the North leaves Southeast Asia alone we are going to support the independence and security of the countries of Southeast Asia."

On other points Rusk said:

CUBA — The United States will not negotiate with Prime Minister Fidel Castro about his military connection with Moscow and his interference in the affairs of other hemisphere governments. It is important for the Castro regime to discover that there is no future for the Cuban people in Havana's policies of militancy and interference in this hemisphere.

U.S.-SOVIET TRADE — Although Moscow is suggesting a long-term trade agreement with Washington, there are some serious problems limiting trade between the two countries. One is that Russia does not have much that Americans want to buy. Another is Soviet practice like "dumping" goods on the market at below-cost prices.

DISARMAMENT—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko's criticism of the U.S. proposals at the Geneva disarmament conference is routine grumbling, which does not mean abandonment of the effort to reach further arms control agreements. The United States is not discouraged, and will continue to apply time, patience and work to this end, although large and dramatic disarmament steps cannot be expected soon.

State Starts Campaign Against Rt. 80 Billboards

By Jeff Cox
Daily Record Reporter

STROUDSBURG — Sometime during the coming week, state Dept. of Highways inspectors will comb strips of land on either side of Interstate 80, trying to determine which advertising signs will have to go.

They will scour each mile of land for 660 feet on either side of the superhighway along a 10.9 mile section of the road from the Stroudsburg borough limits to Scotrun.

Condemnation maps showing property and billboards along Rt. 80 have been filed in the office of Mrs. Jeannette Batory, Monroe County recorder.

"Now that the district highway office has taken the first step, on-the-site inspection is the next move," according to Thomas Redding, district reviewer and appraiser in Allentown.

State Law

The strong steps against billboards and advertising devices are taken under the authority of an act passed by the state legislature April 28, 1961.

Among other things, the act says that "advertising devices are absolutely prohibited along certain highways and may not be constructed within 660 feet of the edge of the right of way . . ."

Roads included under the act are the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways. Interstate 80 is part of this system.

The act doesn't apply to "segments of such highways which run through commercial or industrial zones of incorporated municipalities. . . where the use of property in the zones is subject to municipal regulation. This waiver also applies to any land clearly established by law as industrial or commercial.

Borough Not Affected

Robert Pinder of Monroe Engineers, chairman of the Stroudsburg planning commission, clarified this part of the law.

"This may sound as if all signs in an incorporated municipality must come down if there is no zoning, but this is not true. This section of the act means that if a borough, city, or first class township has zoning, it has the power to zone signs out or in along the strip of road within its jurisdiction.

"It also means that a town such as Stroudsburg, without zoning, is fair game for sign erectors. Signs may be put up all along the segment of road that traverses the borough.

"You notice that East Stroudsburg has zoned signs off the new superhighway. In Stroudsburg, there is no zoning," Pinder said.

He added that the planning commission has been thinking of ways to remove signs along the Stroudsburg section of the road.

Outside of incorporated municipalities, certain signs may be erected within the 660-foot limit, according to the act. A person who operates a business within the limit may erect a single sign advertising his place of business for each direction of the road.

The sign must be within 50 feet of the advertised activity. Other signs allowed are official state highway signs, and some information signs, and information site signs.

Signs which are within the 660-foot limit, yet are not visible from any part of the highway, are allowed to remain standing.

Violation of the act is punishable by $100 upon conviction and $100 each day thereafter.

Thate is theory of the act. Redding described how it works in practice.

Actual Practice

He said that soon after the condemnation maps are filed, "we contact property owners and sign owners, and tell them the signs will have to be removed."

"Our men go out and check each sign in violation of the act. We view the signs as real and not personal property, and make an appraisal of them for condemnation purposes.

"We also ask the sign owner to submit a bid on the cost of removing and relocating the sign.

State Pays Cost

"Whichever is the cheaper, the appraised cost or the cost of relocating the sign, we pay," Redding said.

He explained the action further: "If we run across a sign that costs about $750 new, has a life-expectancy of 20 years, and is 10 years old, then we will offer the sign owner half the cost of the new sign, or $375. We sort of pro-rate the signs.

"This pro-rating technique is called 'reproduction of signs,' where we offer to repay the value of the destroyed sign.

"The other method is to remove the sign and relocate it elsewhere. To get a price on this, the sign owner submits a bid of what he thinks the work will cost.

"The cheaper price is the one we pay," he said.

Right of Occupancy

He said that now the District Department of Highways is securing copies of rights of occupancy — to determine whether sign-owners have actually gotten an agreement from the property owner allowing his sign to be erected.

"If the sign is legally there, then we will go ahead and appraise it. If it's not legally there, our problem is solved. It may simply be removed.

"Sometime this coming week we'll walk the area," he said, "and within a month's time we should be able to make offers to sign owners."

Federal Reward

Besides safety and beauty, the state wants the signs removed for a financial reason. The government will reimburse the state one half of a per cent of the total cost of the roads if all signs in violation of the act are removed.

"This would amount to $5 or $6 million when all signs are removed and all the roads are built," said Robert Heathering-ton, Dept. of Highways public information officer in Harrisburg.

U.S. Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges said earlier this year that a penalty of one half of a per cent should be levied against states which don't cooperate in the billboard proposals. But that is not the law.

So, the state is pushing ahead with its clean-up campaign.

What do the sign-owners think?

Sign Owner Hunt

Fred Schwenk, owner of Kane's Motel in Bartonsville, who has five signs listed on the condemnation map, said, "This definitely will hurt our business . . . our business is transient trade and the people that will stop at our establishment use the highways.

"They took Rt. 611 away from us and gave us alternate 611 — which few people travel — so it's hard to say just how we'll do this summer. Camelback Ski Area helped our business some this winter."

Information Areas

Schwenk's solution was "to have food and lodging signs along the road, specifying exactly how many motels and hotels are located near the exit. You find this being done in many western states."

Eric Danisch, manager of Brookdale - On-The-Lake Resort near Scotrun, said, "I feel our signs are a service rendered to the traveling public.

"If a sign is undesirable, and not done in good taste, I say remove it.

"If a sign is strictly advertising, selling a product, I say remove it.

Directions Needed

"But if it is a direction sign to a resort which is 'way off the main highway, then I say it is necessary and indispensable."

Danisch also suggested that the state put up a list of accommodations along the superhighways.

"It's ridiculous for the state to do this to us when we pay so much tax," he said. "Because of the heavy taxes, we should have certain rights. We should have the right to let people know we are here."

State Fires GOP Aspirant

HARRISBURG (AP)—Former State Rep. Paige Varner, Clarion Republican, said Friday he was fired by the Scranton Administration for refusing to quit seeking election to his old seat.

Varner served seven terms in the House until he ran unsuccessfully for the state Senate in 1962. He is seeking the GOP House nomination against incumbent George W. Alexander.

Varner said his dismissal will become effective March 13. His post, Secretary of the Board of Arbitration of Claims, carries an annual salary of $7,400.

"The sole reason for my dismissal is that I filed for the House," said Varner.

Asked if he had been warned not to seek election Varner said "people in the administration" had indicated to him that his candidacy would be unwelcome.

MacArthur Survives Surgery; No Cancer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur, 84, a tough old hero of two world wars, successfully weathered a three-hour surgical operation Friday on which surgeons gave this happy verdict: No evidence of cancer.

The five-star warrior, who once said, "Old soldiers never die—they just fade away," was reported doing very well after the operation. There is a possibility he can leave Walter Reed Army Hospital in from two to four weeks.

The operation had been described as exploratory but it turned out to be one that actually corrected a dangerous condition.

A team of Army surgeons removed a gall bladder packed with gallstones. And they also cut out other such stones that had become stuck in MacArthur's common bile duct — a blockage that accounted for the obstructive jaundice which brought the general to the operating table.

Extensive explorations in these and other areas of the abdomen — including the liver—brought no signs of cancer, which had been feared as a possibility before the operation.

So confident are the surgeons that there is no cancer that they didn't call for a biopsy—the cutting away of a piece of tissue for examination by microscopic and other means to determine possible malignancy.

No further surgery is contemplated.

The Man Born Blind — ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—John 9:1-41.

One Sabbath day, as Jesus and the disciples stroll through Jerusalem's streets, they discover a man who had been blind since birth.—John 9:1-5.

Jesus heals him by anointing his eyes with clay and sending him to wash it off. Immediately the man is able to see.—John 9:6, 7.

The Pharisees question the man and his parents in order to deny the miracle. Unsuccessful, they cast him out as a sinner.—John 9:8-34.

Jesus rebukes the Pharisees, revealing Himself to the once-blind man as the Son of God.—John 9:35-41.

Scranton, Clark Endorse Religious Overseas Aid

NEW YO'K, N.Y., — Governor William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, by an official statement, and U.S. Senator Joseph S. Clark have given warm personal endorsement to the current appeals of America's religious faiths for support of their world-wide overseas relief programs.

In this area most churches are participating in these services.

These appeals are the Protestant "One Great Hour of Sharing" and the Catholic "The Bishops' Relief Fund" appeal, both of which will be observed in churches in Pennsylvania on Sunday and the "United Jewish Appeal," a continuing effort with special emphasis at this period of the year.

Through these independent but common - purpose efforts, millions of hungry and destitute persons overseas -- victims of war and political upheaval, of earthquakes, famines, floods, hurricanes and other disasters, and the chronically undernourished and underprivileged - - are given relief and rehabilitation.

In his official statement, Governor Scranton said:

"The homeless, hungry and destitute among mankind need the help of the more fortunate in order to overcome the dire circumstances which enslave them.

"I call upon all Pennsylvanians to give generously to the appeal of their faith this spring.

Rev. J. A. Savard Heads Baptist Special Services

The Rev. John A. Savard, of Barrington, R. I., will conduct special meetings at First Baptist Church, East Stroudsburg on Sunday and March 15.

The Rev. Norman R. Savage, pastor of the church, has announced that the meetings will be held each week-night at 7:30 p.m.

Sunday services are scheduled at 11 p.m. and 7 p.m.

In addition to 13 years in pastorates, Mr. Savard has spent many years as an evangelist, conducting services throughout the eastern, southern and mid-western states and Canada.

During this time he has been associated with the Evangelistic Association of New England, Boston, Mass.

He has directed the Cedar Lake Bible Conference Grounds, Cedar Lake, Ind., and served as president of the Atlanta Bible Institute, Atlanta, Ga. Recently his ministry has been with Barrington College, Barrington, R. I., as staff evangelist.

In connection with local church campaigns, he has ministered in youth rallies.

Today's Lesson:

The Man Born Blind

By R. H. Ramsey

TWO conclusions become readily apparent to even the most casual reader of the Gospels. One is the fact that, almost from the beginning of His public ministry, the Temple priests and Pharisees sought to discredit Christ and, if possible, put Him to death for blasphemy.

The other is the seeming changeability of the disciples themselves. Perhaps, because their need to believe was so great, and because they professed belief so frequently, they convinced themselves that they did believe in Christ completely. However, each remained subconsciously skeptical, and it was not until after the Crucifixion that their belief, conscious and subconscious, crystallized itself into the deep-seated convictions that marked their later years. This subconscious skepticism often led them to draw wrong conclusions and ask silly questions.

A classic example is offered in the first paragraph of John 9:1-5. For generations some rabbis had taught that birth defects were the result of prenatal sin. Thus, when Jesus passed the man who had been born blind, the disciples asked Him who had sinned, the man or his parents. Jesus answers that neither had sinned but that the man had been born blind so God's works could be made clear through him. While He talks, Jesus proceeds to heal the blind man's eyes, mixing clay with His spittle and applying it to the man's eyes.

This clay did not add to Christ's power to heal. It was not even necessary to the cure, for Christ could have healed him without actually being in the man's presence. Jesus used the clay only to help the man believe he would be healed. And his faith was rewarded with the restoration of his sight after he had washed off the clay.

Here was a miracle. Finished. Indisputable. Complete. Permanent. Yet the hatred of the priests and Pharisees was so great that, in spite of all the evidence, they refused to believe Jesus had actually performed such a thing!

There is no other passage in the Gospels—with the exceptions of those relating to the condemnation and crucifixion of Christ — where the unrelenting stubbornness of the human heart is so glaringly evident.

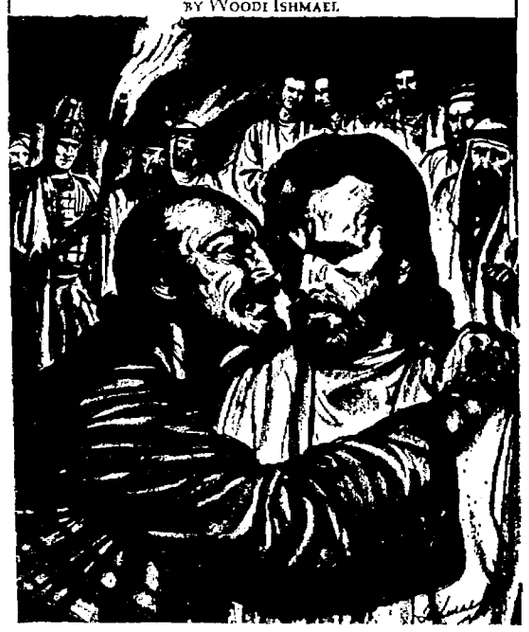
The Pharisees went to great lengths in their determination not to acknowledge this miracle. First they argued whether the man who could now see was the same one who had been born blind — a revelation of stupidity inasmuch as the blind man was well-known in the community. Then they argued over how the man's eyes had been healed, even debating who had actually accomplished the healing.

In the end, their considered opinion was that if the man could now see, it was God's doing and not Jesus', for Jesus was a sinner!

They based this amazing conclusion of theirs on the fact that Jesus had healed the man's eyes on the Sabbath.

The Lenten Story

BY WOODI ISHMAEL



THE KISS OF DEATH

Judas had no trouble finding Jesus in the Garden of Gethsemani. He knew the place well, for the disciples often met there. With him were a great crowd, carrying swords, clubs, lanterns and torches.

"Whomever I kiss, that is He. Lay hold of Him," he said to the chief priests. And he went straight up to Jesus and said, "Hail, Rabbi!" and kissed Him.

But Jesus said to him, "Judas, dost thou betray the Son of Man with a kiss?" (Luke XXII:48)

And to the arresting party, He said: "As against a robber have you come out, with swords and clubs. When I was daily with you in the temple, you did not stretch forth your hands against Me. But this is your hour, and the power of darkness." 3-7

Parson To Parson

by Roderick MacLeod

GOING MY WAY

How often have you heard — "Yes, I am a Christian, that is I believe in my own way." Perhaps the majority of people want to be religious, but in their own way!

One does not attempt to play golf, football, baseball or any such game without first studying the rules of the game and then apply the rules as he plays the game.

Yet, we will take up Christianity as a game, but try to ignore the rule book and make up our own rules as we go along.

It is impossible to be a Christian and not know what is expected of you. The authority of our religion is explained in the Bible. Only by reading and study is the way that we are to go clearly explained.

Many homes have a family Bible displayed for the visitor to see, but should one be inclined to thumb the pages, beware! The clouds of dust undisturbed for months may make you sneeze or perhaps choke you.

Of what value is a beautiful library with great books of wisdom that are never exposed to the human eye? The shelves might be constructed of solid wood with imitation book-binding for all the knowledge that would be gained.

The Bible is not a status symbol. To be of value it must be read well and the Book should have "that lived in look." A well thumb-worn Bible shows that the owner is still seeking the word of God, still learning that which he professes to believe in.

This great Book is the key that unlocks eternity to those that live by faith. We live by faith, but this only a beginning, not an end. Too many well meaning stupid Christians glibly report "All is well, we have heard that all we need is to profess Christ and from then live by faith alone!"

True, one is saved by faith, lest anyone should boast, but with faith comes growth by learning and doing. Where else is one going to grow in knowledge except he attend a gathering together to hear the Word explained (church) and by constant daily reading of the Bible at a family altar?

Such Christians who ignore the spiritual development of their souls are likened unto babes who are fed only milk and never taste meat, even when they reach maturity. Not a satisfying diet to say the least.

In these days when we are allowing the Bible to be put out of our schools and put out of our children's minds it is imperative that we as Christian parents put much more emphasis on Bible reading in our own home than we ever have before. Lack of respect is the chief cause of delinquency in our youth. Lack of respect for rules in the home, in the school, and in the church, warp the minds of youth while all we do is exclaim "How awful."

God is a God of righteousness and love, but He is also a God of laws that have to be obeyed: Unless we have knowledge of God's will for us, we are fooling ourselves.

There is no other way to find God's love but through His own teaching through Christ, of that which we should know. No other way is to be found.

We must follow in His way and not try to make up our own. -vdeoYs' oedw etaoin shrdl np

Lenten Services Planned

The first of four special Friday night Lenten services will start this week at The Salvation Army Citadel, services will be at 7:30 p.m. each week.

Mrs. James Hepburn, who served with her husband as Divisional Commanders in this area and later transferred to Boston, Mass. in a smiliar capacity, and from where Colonel Hepburn died in January 1963, will be the leader and speaker in the first service on Friday.

Mrs. Hepburn is now serving as assistant Territorial Home League Secretary at the New York Territorial office. She will also bring the message in both the Sunday morning and evening services at the Citadel.

The second service will have Captain and Mrs. James Dancer, Officers of the Easton, Pa. Corps as leaders and speakers. Captain and Mrs. Kenneth Galant of Pen Argyl, Pa. and Major and Mrs. Donald Lance of Pottsville, Pa. are also scheduled to participate in the lenten series.

Anticatholic Pressure

WASHINGTON (AP) — About 20 Vietnamese families converted to Roman Catholicism several years ago have been forced to renounce their faith through intimidation by the new Vietnamese regime, says a report from Hue by the Rev. Patrick O'Conner, released by the National Catholic Welfare Conference.

Science Fair Sets Entries Deadline

STROUDSBURG — Applications for the sixth annual Monroe County Science Fair to be held March 19 and 20 in the National Guard Armory in East Stroudsburg must be in March 11 at 7 p.m.

Applications should be mailed to Lewis R. Hastie at the East Stroudsburg Area Joint High School.

This year's fair is sponsored by The Daily Record, the Industrial Management Club of Monroe County and the county's public school science teachers.

Hastie reported more than 100 entries are expected to be displayed this year in 10 major fields. Prizes will be awarded for first, second and third places. Honorable mention in each category will also be awarded this year.

Mrs. Gloria Cox, president of the science, said the program will be officially opened Wednesday night, March 18 with a dinner for the sponsoring organizations and the 21 judges, who will determine winners in the various categories.

The dinner will be held in the dining hall at East Stroudsburg State College at 6:30. Judging will take place at the armory immediately following the dinner.

Dr. W. G. Moore, ESSC faculty member, who is in charge of prizes and judging, said a $10 cash prize and a gold medal will be awarded the first place winner in each category. Second place winners will receive a $5 prize and third place winners $3. Honorable mentions winners will receive a certificate.

Projects Divided

Fair projects are divided into the senior high school and junior high school divisions. Senior categories are biology, chemistry, conservation, earth and space science, engineering, physics and human biology. Categories in the junior division are natural science, physical science and earth and space science.

Winners in each of the categories will be printed in the Daily Record March 19.

The Tobyhanna Army Depot will present a plaque to the first place winner in electronics. The presentation will be made Thursday night by Col. M. J. Reichel, depot commander.

Open To Public

The fair will be open to the public Thursday from 1 to 9:30 p.m. and Friday from 1 to 10 p.m.

The Industrial Management Club, under the direction of Richard Seip, chairman of the club's community activities committee, is making all the arrangements for equiping the armory to handle the fair.

Tables will be set up in the armory Tuesday, March 17, and exhibits will be moved in Wednesday.

Organizations donating more than $10 toward the total prize money are Buck Hill Falls Co., Heico, Inc., Jordan Surgical Group, Medical Staff of the General Hospital, Monroe County Milk Producers Co-operative Assn.

Also Pocono Forestry Assn., Pocono Manor Assn., Ronson Corp. of Pennsylvania, Skytop Lodge, Inc., Stroudsburg Engine Works, Inc., The International Boiler Works, The National Drug Co., Women's Auxiliary to Monroe County Medical Society, A. B. Wyckoff, Inc., Van D. Yetter Jr. and Pennsylvania Power and Light Co.

Acting as judges for the event will be Arthur M. Trogner, Harold B. Croasdale, Joseph W. Kovarick, Glen Fisher, Dr. A. J. Harlacher, William V. Hissam, Miss Diane Shellhamer, W. Adolph Rake, William E. Eden, Dr. Joseph L. DeMeio.

Resort Group Urges County Aid For 'Port

MT. POCONO — The Top of the Poconos Assn., Inc. is urging six municipalities and the Monroe County Commissioners, sponsors of the Pocono Mountain Airport, "to appropriate sufficient funds to finance" needed construction at the airport.

At a meeting yesterday the association adopted a resolution calling for the county, Mt. Pocono Borough and Coolbaugh, Paradise, Pocono, Barrett and Tobyhanna townships to provide funds for "operational buildings and other facilities."

The association also appointed a committee to investigate the possibility of a Laurel celebration for the area surrounding Mt. Pocono. June 11 to 15 was set as a possible time to hold the celebration.

In other business, the directors appropriated money to help defray Christmas lighting expense in Mt. Pocono.

The progress of Racing, Inc. was discussed and the association was told construction on a new race course for sport cars might begin during the summer.

Chestnuthill To Act On Budget Soon

BRODHEADSVILLE — Floyd S. Altemose, chairman of the Chestnuthill Twp., supervisors, last night said that the 1964 budget was not discussed at the Monday, March 2, meeting.

The Daily Record published a story Friday, March 6, saying the budget had been discussed and errors were found.

Altemose said that a special meeting will be held this month for the sole purpose of acting on the proposed budget. The date will be announced.

He said the supervisors heard several complaints about road conditions at the Monday meeting.

A group from Firehouse Road requested that the road be blacktopped. The supervisors voted to inspect the road and make necessary plans for the surface treatment in 1965.

In the group from Firehouse Rd. were Harley Bond, Mrs. Charles Arnold, Carl Brong, Donald Everett and Elbert Ross.

The road is about one-half mile and will be resurfaced in 1965, according to the supervisors.

August Beckman requested that the road in front of his property be blacktopped.

The supervisors told him that they would inspect the highway and made a report to him at the April meeting.

Beckman lives on a dirt road connecting Rt. 209 at Miller's Greenhouse and L.R. 45085, at Mikels Farm. The road is .7 miles.

In other business the supervisors approved making repairs to the township grader. Costs of the repairs are estimated at $100.

Butz To Receive Advanced Degree

STROUDSBURG — Wally Grant Butz, a resident of Stroudsburg, will be among 47 students to receive an advanced degree from Lehigh University.

Butz, a major in education, will receive the master of education advanced degree at a presentation in June.

He is principal at Pleasant Valley High School.

Thirty-seven baccalaureate degrees also have been granted, bringing the total of mid-year degree recepients to 84 persons. Some 150 advanced degrees and 500 baccalaureate degrees are scheduled to be presented in June.

Undergraduates and graduates upon whom degrees were conferred come from nine states, District of Columbia, and five foreign countries.

BIG BROTHER — Eight-year-old Margaret Hellmann admires her brother, Richard's project that won the Stroud Union senior first place in school's annual science fair. The fair was held Thursday night in the high school's science classrooms.

STROUDSBURG — Thomas H. Knepp, head of the science department at Stroud Union High School, last night announced the winners and those receiving honorable mention, in the annual school science fair.

The winners by grade, place, and project are:

Grade Seven —Brian Everett, first, anatomy of the heart; Jane Ellen Buser, second, bogs, and Thomas Walz, third, a solar eclipse. Honorable mention went to Debbie Cole, electricity from a lemon, and Dewain Arndt, the lungs and how they work.

Grade Eight — Michael Lee, first, cross section of a volcano; Peggy Lyons, second, the meteor, and Harriet M. Watson, third, the human heart. Honorable mention were David Lesoine, the lungs, and Nancy Shaffer, clouds.

Junior High Collections — Cindy German, first, seashells; David H. Turner II, second, a study of tree bark, and David J. Feltham, rocks and minerals. Honorable mentioned was Danny K. Moyer, Delaware Indians arrows, and Jane Bowers, sea shells.

Grade Nine, Natural Science —Ronald Carlton, first, mold growth; Gary Tinney, second, tornado in a box, and Jay Cummings, bacteria and the effect antibiotics have on them. Billie Altemose received honorable mention for his project of learning methods for rodents.

Grade Nine, Physical Sciences —Larry Weber, first, the digital computor and its development, and Joseph Pula, second, Van De Graaff generator.

General Biology — Joan O'Neil, first, the effect of vitamin B1 on plants; Jackson Kitson, second, effects of household sprays on house plants, and Mark A. Zager, third, chromatography. Sally Dennis received honorable mention for her project of conditions controlling corn seed germinate in the shortest time.

Human Biology — Richard Hellman received first place for his project of th race of tomorrow. This was the only award in this division.

Chemistry — Edward H. Laesser, first, six systems of crystal; James Winston, second, crystalography, and Larry Fleshler, third, investigation of the method of determining relative effectiveness of filerts on contaminated water. Pat Leggiere and Stephania Ann Dean received honorble mention for their projects.

Miss Leggieri displayed a project on corrosion. Miss Dean's project was Photographer's chemicals and reactions.

The fair was held Thursday night, March 5, in Stroud Union High School. There were 238 projects entered in the fair.

Members of the science department, in addition to Knepp, are Mrs. Gloria Cox, Kenneth Lee, Richard Merring, John W. Regan, Fred H. Shafer, Jerome Stulgaitis and H. Wilbur Woodley.

Eastburg Man Under Arrest

STROUDSBURG — George E. Gordon, 37, of 123 N. Courtland St., East Stroudsburg was charged with assault and battery and was committed to Monroe County Jail yesterday in default of $500 bail.

Gordon was apprehended by constable Robert Brinn. He appeared before Forrest B. Sebring, Justice of the Peace in Stroudsburg. A hearing will be given at a later date.

Employment Dips By 108,300

HARRISBURG (AP) — Employment in Pennsylvania fell by 108,300 jobs between December, 1963, and last January, the Department of Labor and Industry reported.

Employment at mid-January reached 4,192,400, according to Secretary William P. Young.

He said the reduction from December was "seasonably expected."

He noted that the January total was the highest for the month in four years, and 36,500 higher than one year ago.

County Home Meeting Off

STROUDSBURG — The board of directors meeting of the Monroe County Home Assn. slated for Monday, March 9., has been cancelled, Mrs. Bette Morgan, corresponding secretary, said last night.

Heart Fund Drive Nets $6,430.06

STROUDSBURG — Martin S. (Marty) Baldwin, Monroe County chairman of the Heart Fund Drive, yesterday said contributions have reached the $6,430.06 mark.

He added that the figure is incomplete as returns from outlaying districts have not been received as yet.

Baldwin broke the total figure down as follows:

Business, $324; General, $16.96; industry, $233; memorials, $151; organizations, $185; resorts, $340; special events, $548.50, and special gifts, $925.30.

He listed door to door collections, by townships, as follows: Stroudsburg, $593.38; East Stroudsburg, $790.84; Stroud Twp., $371.89; Chestnuthill Twp., $222.50; Polk Twp., $118.80; Tobyhanna and Tunkhannock Twps., $174.88; Barrett Twp., $576; Jackson Twp., $91.66; Pocono Twp., $109.70; Coolbaugh Twp., $218.36; Price Twp., $31.43; Shawnee, $77.25; Middle Smithfield Twp., $182.21, and Smithfield Twp., $157.40.

To be heard from are Ross Twp., Eldred Twp., Hamilton Twp. Borough of Mount Pocono; Paradise Twp. and the Borough of Delaware Water Gap.

50 Sign Up In Barrett Registration

CANADENSIS — Fifty new voters registered at a special voting registration center set up in the Barrett Elementary Center by the Monroe County Commissioners.

Last Tuesday the special registration team signed up 30 new Democrats and 20 new Republican voters. Three Democrats switched Republican and five Republicans turned Democrat.

Mrs. Lovelle Banks, Mrs. Mildred Hoffstadt and Mrs. Ruth Logan, county commissioner clerks, handled the registration. They were in Barrett from 6 to 9 p.m.

Mrs. Marcella Bach is the Barrett Township Republican voter registration chairman. Mae Bennett is the Democratic registration chairman in the township.

Mrs. Saunders' Rites Conducted

STROUDSBURG — Funeral services for Mrs. Alice M. Saunders, 71, of 765 Bryant St., Stroudsburg, were held yesterday at 2 p.m. in the William H. Clark Funeral Home with the Rev. Roger C. Stimson officiating.

Burial was in the Laurelwood Cemetery. Pallbearers were Lester Bowers, Detliff Hansen, Lee Koehler, Foster Minnich, Lawrence Ramsey, and Dr. Paul Shiffer.

The Monroe Chapter, 99, Order of Eastern Star, conducted services at the funeral home Thursday at 8 p.m.

Hutchinson Explains Position

Relining Schools 'Momentous' Task

CANADENSIS — The secretary of Monroe County School Board said yesterday the task of reorganization of county schools is "momentous in its scope and character."

See Related article on editorial page.

David E. Hutchinson of Canadensis is the only member of the five-man county board who is not committed to vote for either a single county unit or a four district plan of school reorganization.

The board meets March 19 to vote on a plan for county school reorganization.

While Hutchinson remains uncommitted on his stand as a county board member, he voted in favor of a single county unit as a member of the Price Township School Board, his home district.

In clarification of his position Hutchinson said; "When I am voting on the Price Township board I feel I am representing the people of Price Township. When I vote on the county board I am voting for the whole county.

"While I find more concrete reason favoring a single county unit over a four-district plan I am not fully convinced that a reorganization move of this magnitude should be undertaken at this time."

Hutchinson recently gave ten reasons favoring a single county plan. The reasons ranged from streamlining purchasing practices and teacher hiring to the possibility of a vocational-technical training school under a single county plan.

Reasons

At the same time he has issued eight reasons why he might be inclined to vote in favor of a four-district plan.

Among the reasons are:

"It might prove difficult to administer effectively to such a large geographical area as the whole county from one central office.

"While the idea of reducing the number of directors is probably good, can we reduce the present 99 directors in the county unit without creating utter chaos?"

Hutchinson said:

The four-district plan offers the least change but brings about some consolidation. The eighteen separate township boards would be eliminated. Much duplication of effort would also be eliminated. The county would have just four nine-member school boards.

"The single county unit is drastic. It requires intensive revision of a long accepted system. But, we must search our souls and be certain that our decisions are not hampered or warped by a most common and powerful weakness . . . the inability to accept change."

Teen Age Jobs

Statistics on teenage unemployment are alarming.

The government says that one of every six teenagers who seek work can't find it — three times the national rate — and nearly one quarter of the four million unemployed in America are teenagers.

The increasing teenage population is not making matters any better.

Last year 2.8 million Americans became 18. Next year, thanks to the World War II baby boom, 3.8 million will reach 18, and the number is expected to stay at that high level for ten years at least.

To keep up with this avalanche of teenagers looking for jobs, the nation will have to provide 2 million more jobs a year if unemployment is to be kept at present levels, but that rate of job development is more than twice the present actual rate of job growth — about 900,000 a year for the past 12 years.

U.S. Secretary of Labor Williard Wirtz suggested recently that all youths be given free public education for two years at the college level to keep them off the unemployment rolls and give them the extra education needed to get good jobs in today's highly specialized business world.

Unskilled school dropouts, who represent about half of today's unemployed teenagers, have little chance of getting good jobs today. They cannot fill the 50,000 white collar jobs reported going begging in New York City for lack of qualified applicants.

While the Wirtz, proposal, not a new one, may seem impractical on a national scale, the essential need for a high school education, useful vocational education, and higher education cannot be questioned.

But priority should be given to improving and expanding the vocational education system in America. Special vocational high schools and college courses are needed first to prepare unemployed teenagers for jobs which do exist.

The needed creation of new jobs across the nation is a more difficult and massive problem.

Anti-Smoking Clinic

The five-day anti-smoking campaign which has been conducted across the country by the Seventh Day Adventists Church will be conducted in Stroudsburg.

The program, designed to bolster the will power of people of all ages who want to shake the habit, will be conducted Sunday, March 15, through Thursday, March 19, from 7:30 to 9 p.m. at the YMCA in Stroudsburg.

The program is not religious.

It is based on lectures and group discussions of the physiological and psychological effects of smoking and difficulties encountered in quitting the habit.

The personal experiences of those trying to stop smoking will be told to the group and advice and instruction will be given by Pastor Bruce J. Fox of the Seventh Day Adventist Church in Stroudsburg; Dr. Russell Youngberg and Dr. Irving Jones of the Reading Rehabilitation Center in Reading, Pa.

There is no charge and no guarantee of success.

But if you want to shake the habit of smoking and find it impossible to do alone, this five-day clinic is the best method available for getting help.

Comment Of The Day

Governor Scranton — "The basic theory of giving employers an opportunity to have a lower (unemployment compensation) rate is that so many of the small employers have steady employment all the time, and literally suffer, in a sense, for having to pay a rate that really is higher than they should."

Reporter — "On that theory, sir, don't you think that my sales tax ought to be reduced because I never get relief? That's the same theory isn't it?"

—From Governor William Scranton's new conference in Harrisburg Wednesday.

A — No, it is not true. Unfortu tely, many GI insurance holders are making this same mistake. The Veterans Administration is required by law to pay the insurance proceeds to the beneficiary of record. In your case it would go to his mother and sister as he originally arrang. I. Tell him to notify the VA insurance 'fice where he sends his premiums of his wish to change the beneficiary listing.

Q—Is there an exception to the rule that VA outpatient treatmen is given only for service-connected conditions?

A—Yes. Disabled veterans who are receiving training under either the World War II or the Korean Conflict Vocational Rehabilitation Act and who need outpatient medical treatment for non-service-connected disabilities to prevent interruption of their training, may be entitled to this treatment from the VA.

Q — In the case of a serviceman's death while he is on active duty, what are the limits of the death gratuity payment and who receives it?

A — The benefit is a sum equal to six months pay of the deceased. However, it shall not be less than $800, nor more than $3,000. It is paid to the surviving spouse, child or children, unless the serviceman has designated his parents, brothers or sisters.

Dear Abby

Still Firm!

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: You have always insisted that the white wedding gown and veil are symbols of chastity and virginity, and should be worn only by brides who have earned them. Now you quote from St. Thomas Aquinas, and seem to have wavered from your original stand. I certainly believe in the forgiveness of sins; that even the sin of unchastity can be, and is, forgiven by the Lord if the sinner is truly repentant. But this forgiveness does not remove the consequences of the sin. The unchaste woman may be forgiven by the Lord, but she still loses her right to the symbols of virginity. I urge you to remain firm in your original position. Our young people must learn that there are certain penalties for unchastity and rewards for purity.

A CONCERNED PASTOR

DEAR PASTOR: I remain firm in my stand, and waver not the slightest. I printed the Catholic point of view, though it is not my own, in fairness to my readers.

DEAR ABBY: Our father is a surly, argumentative type who could never get along with anybody. Mamma was an angel, and even she couldn't please him. She died two years ago and now Father is 59 and lives alone. He tried living with each one of us (we are all married) but he never lasted two months with any of us. He left every place mad! Just before Christmas he wrote each of us telling us not to buy him anything because he wasn't buying us anything — not even the grandchildren. My oldest sister was so ashamed she bought her children gifts and put "Love from Grandpa" on her cards. Now he has sent us each another letter saying that when he dies he doesn't want to "bother" any of his children with the burial — that he has everything fixed up with the Veterans' Burial Association. Should we ignore him or try to make the peace?

SPEAKING FOR THE FIVE OF US

DEAR SPEAKING: It is sometimes difficult to tell whether a person is sick, or just "acting ugly." Someone in your family should keep in touch with him because he appears to need help. Try to keep the peace even if you must go 95 per cent of the way. You won't regret it.

DEAR ABBY: My son has been married approximately six years, and so far all they have been able to raise are dogs. They seem very satisfied, and there is never any mention of their having children. They have two Boston bulls at present and they treat them like babies. Should I ask my daughter-in-law if that's the best she can do?

DISGUSTED MOTHER-IN-LAW

DEAR DISGUSTED: Ask your son. But don't be surprised if he tells you he'll "do better" when he's doggone good and ready.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "HER MOTHER" IN WINSTON-SALEM, N.C.: She'll probably deliver the baby before he delivers the ring. Send me your name and address and I'll send you a list of homes for unwed mothers in your area.

Get it off your chest. For a personal, unpublished reply, write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

'Boy Are WE Getting Stirred Up!'

Key Man 'Uncommitted'

Hutchinson Explains Position On School Reorganization

By David E. Hutchinson
Secretary
Monroe County School Board

Due to the fact that I find myself in the position of possibly having the deciding vote when the Monroe County School Directors vote, March 19, for a plan of reorganization and due to the fact that all interested persons are anxious to know what I shall finally do, I offer the following ideas. They do not indicate which way I shall vote, but will possibly show why I remain so far uncommitted.

Perhaps the reason given most often for us to remain as four separate units, with the same division of townships as now in the jointures of East Stroudsburg, Pocono Mt. and Pleasant Valley and Stroud Union, is that we are not ready to join forces, and there are too many inequalities to work out.

It is true that it would be a big job to organize. But not impossible. Properly done we might get a much more efficient school system.

As one big administrative unit we might realize more efficiency in cost items such as future new buildings, transportation, and purchasing of some supplies.

We definitely could offer better educational facilities to the smaller schools and districts, because teachers and special equipment would be shared by all.

For many reasons it seems almost inevitable, to those who have studied the problem closely, that eventually we must all combine. But is it too soon?

Same Fight Again

Others feel that now is the time to form one single unit and start seriously working together as a county. They feel that any other step would be but a temporary measure and soon we would be going through the same fight all over again.

Some districts feel it would help them financially, although the best information I have available gives me no clue as to that.

The law indicates equalized taxation, but the details of preparing a budget, levying and assessing taxes, and "performing all acts and functions necessary to enable the proposed school district to function properly prior to the date of its establishment" is all left to an interim operating committee.

On or before the 15th of January immediately preceding the date of establishment, the incumbent school directors of the component school districts shall be called into convention by the county superintendent of schools and shall select by majority vote this interim operating committee composed of nine incumbent school directors.

Then all debts of the component school districts are absorbed by the new district, except current operating expenses funded by bond issue after Sept. 12, 1961.

Some districts feel they would gain in educational opportunities by a merger with others. Some districts feel they have a good school organization now and would suffer unnecessarily if forced to combine with others.

Most of the anticipated suffering is reputed to come from the region of the wallet.

Taxes and Education

Now we cannot for a minute disregard the financial aspects of any action we take. Taxation and education are like Siamese Twins. Seldom can we consider the problems of one without the other.

In fact, if I was sure, without doubt, that there was clear and decisive financial advantage to the majority of people in one plan or another, I could easily argue that financial advantage would bring better schools and I would vote for that plan.

The trouble is that there is no such clear picture. It can be safely said that no matter what we do, the future cost of schools here and elsewhere will continue to increase.

In no case can anyone foresee the cost of schools decreasing. We must teach so much more now. This means more and better teachers and equipment. And, still more and more.

Teachers wages must increase if everyone elses increase.

And the cost of every single item in a school budget is increasing just as it is in every household budget.

And building new schools today is incredibly expensive. There are almost no school districts that are not now in debt because of building programs. And most of those who are not worried today, will be soon.

Equal County Tax

It is generally understood that if we form one countywide unit, that in effect we pool our assets and liabilities and eventually end up being all taxed equally, either higher or lower. This is a very rough generalization, but essentially true.

But do we realize what reorganization into four new districts means? It means the same sharing of everything by each and every township, or rather the persons in every township within each unit.

It represents little or no change for Stroud Union financially. But it means that the townships of Barrett, Coolbaugh, Tobyhanna, Tunkhannock, Jackson, Pocono, Paradise and the Borough of Mt. Pocono would pool all their assets and liabilities and share one and the same tax rate and millage.

It means that the townships of Porter and Lehman in Pike County will share everything equally with the townships of Price, Middle Smithfield, Smithfield and the Borough of East Stroudsburg.

And it means that the townships of Chestnuthill, Polk, Ross and Eldred will share everything equally, including taxes.

Districts Abolished

The 18 individual township school boards will be abolished, no matter which plan is adopted for the county. If we choose to remain four districts, each will retain 9 directors.

There are now 99 school directors in the county. This would give us 36. If we elect to have just one district, we end up with 9 school directors for the entire county.

The other 90 will remain as directors in an advisory capacity, however, and would undoubtedly form most of the committees and do much of the footwork, until the last of their terms expire, in six years.

Then it is presumed that the nine man board can operate efficiently with a new, strong, central administrative force (the paid school administrators) and some good citizens advisory committees.

There is one other unanswerable question. The State Board of Education, the Governor, and the majority of our legislature put this new law in effect for just one reason.

They intended to drastically reduce the number of individual school districts. We are not reducing if we keep our four districts. There is some cause to wonder if they will accept a four unit plan.

To Avoid Errors

We must make a decision, and we must submit a plan, in detail to Harrisburg. By law this plan must be entirely ready by June 1, this year. We hope to avoid errors caused by too much haste, so we are going into full action now, in March, with hopes of turning out a good finished product in April or May.

Any plan of organization for a county disapproved by the Council of Basic Education, shall be returned to the county board for reconsideration, amendment and resubmission.

If no plan is approved by the council for a county prior to Jan. 1, 1965, the Department of Public Instruction shall prepare and place upon the agenda of the council a plan for the county. When approved by the council such plan shall be deemed the approved plan of and for the county.

Perhaps the thoughts and information expressed above indicate a clear path or decision to you. They do not do so for me.

I can point out possible good and bad in any method we choose. But we are forced to do something. And we have a limited time in which to do it.

It is my fervent hope that all school directors, and all citizens use the remaining time, until March 19, in studying all aspects of this problem, even if some boards have to reverse themselves in light of new information or understanding.

Game Warden's Love of Animals Defended; Shooting Called Just

Editor, The Daily Record:

This letter is written in answer to the gentleman whose two beagle dogs were destroyed by Game Warden Spencer. My family and I have had two experiences with Mr. Spencer that proved to us his sincerity and dedication to the job, and the genuine love that Mr. Spencer has for animals.

Two years ago, we had property damaged by a large bear that visited our house every night for two weeks, seeking food. We wanted the bear moved from the area, or destroyed.

Mr. Spencer explained that the bear had just come out of hibernation, that it was hungry, and that natural food was scarce.

He asked our patience, and explained that as soon as natural food became available, the bear would no longer frequent our property. He was right, and the bear ceased his visits several nights later, and we have not seen it since.

Last year, two dogs were chasing a half grown fawn, which fell dead right on our road about a quarter of a mile from our house. A neighbor drove off the dogs before they were able to get their teeth in the deer.

He'e was a definite case of dogs running a deer to death without actually physically attacking the deer. When Mr. Spencer arrived to remove the animal, his anger and grief were justified and genuine.

Mr. Spencer loves these creatures, and reacts as we do when we see them running scared from dogs that do not need the meat to live.

We feel sorry for the man who lost his pets. We too have owned dogs and know how they can find a place in your heart. But to be honest about the matter, we feel Mr. Spencer was justified in what he did.

He has a job to do, and a more dedicated man to his job you would have to search long and hard to find.

Beagles Unlikely to Attack Deer; Warden Criticized for Shooting

Editor, The Daily Record:

We were shocked to read in the February 29, 1964, issue of the Daily Record of the needless death of Mr. Scherer's two beagle dogs.

Our sympathy goes to Mr. George Scherer whose duly licensed dogs were unfortunate enough to wander away from him.

It is disgusting and concerning to know that such a thoughtless, rash acting and unfeeling man toward animals, such as Mr. Spencer, can become not just a local game protector but a district game warden.

We have had beagle hounds for years and currently own two beagles. We have never known a beagle to be capable of attacking and/or killing a deer. The deer in Pennsylvania must be very small in size if anyone can offer proof that a deer can meet his Waterloo by a beagle hound.

It seems to us that the Pennsylvania Game Commission has a responsibility to see that all animals are protected (beagles as well as deer) and that proof must be offered as well as an opportunity for both sides to state a case and due process of law occur in game situations just as due process of law occurs in other legal matters.

We are former Monroe Countians and come up to the area quite often, especially in the summer. Our beagles are our dear pets and we will now live in mortal fear that they might by chance get away from us, and if Mr. Spencer is an example of the type man that is appointed game warden, our dogs might be lost to us for good regardless of licenses and name plates.

We feel a game warden should have a liking and a concern for all animals. We believe a man who can act in such a thoughtless and mean way towards one species of animal will undoubtedly act so towards other animals — perhaps the deer ought to steer clear of Mr. Spencer.

We have been promised in the near future a full blooded pedigree basset hound puppy whose lineage we know if we so desire it. Currently having two beagles, we do not feel we will be in a position to accept it. If Mr. Scherer is interested we will be glad to hear from him.

German Shepherd Death Mourned; SPCA Helps Bury Dog

Editor, The Daily Record:

There has been a quiet lonesome feeling around our house these past few days. Our 10-year old German Shepherd, named Lassie, (bought in 1954 when I was stationed with the U. S. Army in Berlin, Germany) passed away in her sleep the other night.

There were tumors inside of her, gnawing away at that once beautiful body. Her great strength and always amazing ability to combat any type of pain or illness had finally given out. She could fight no more.

Fortunately, she died peacefully, under the influence of a tranquilizer drug. We're relieved it happened that way. We loved her too much to allow her any more suffering.

We are deeply saddened by her death. Only people who truly love dogs can understand how we feel. It's as though we lost a part of ourselves.

We felt the least we could do for her, after the many years of complete and loyal devotion and love she gave us, was place her in a small casket and bury her in a pet cemetery. Certainly, we owed her that much.

Through the combined efforts of Mr. Wisk, president of the local SPCA, Dr. J. E. Gregory, and Mr. Neipert of the local SPCA shelter, all arrangements were made, and she was laid to rest.

My wife and I wish to express our gratitude to all who aided us during this period of sorrow. As I wrote earlier, only people who truly love dogs, and who know how we feel, can really appreciate this letter.

FREDERICK E. KIMBALL

Dr. Magann, David Neison Praised

Editor, The Daily Record:

I have been reading the numerous letters of Don Robbins Sr. relative to the Pocono Mountain Joint School Board and particularly his continued reference to Dr. Edmund Magann and Mr. David Nelson.

Having attended many, many more meetings of the Pocono board than Mr. Robbins, I would like to set the record straight..

In my opinion and with all the observations of the past years may I say that Dr. Magann has been one of the greatest and best men that has ever sat on any school board in this county.

He may not know everything there is to know about insurance but neither does Mr. Robbins know all there is to know about insurance.

Dr. Magann's contributions to the betterment of the education of our children would take up too much space but if Mr. Robbins is interested I'll be more than happy to spend an evening with him to enlighten him about these contributions.

Dr. Magann does this by giving hundreds of hours of his time freely thereby sacrificing thousands of dollars of his professional time.

All of this he does for the children of our community. What more can you ask of a man?

My experience with Mr. Neison has also been over a great number of years. In his particular case he is a paid employe of the jointure.

All I can say is that he more than earns every penny he gets and has been instrumental in saving the community thousands of dollars. Mr. Nelson does not know everything there is to know about insurance, but neither does Mr. Robbins. We should be happy to get a man of this caliber to work for us.

Pocono Mountain Joint Schools are not perfect and I have never heard of one that is. All I can say is that we need good, constructive help by everyone to improve them as time goes on.

That means help from everyone, including Mr. Donald Robbins Sr.

U.C. Bill Called Ripper: Yetter Backed

Editor, The Daily Record:

I would like to comment on an article in the Daily Record Feb. 28, titled, "Yetter; Scranton's UC Push Publicity Build-up."

I agree with Van D. Yetter's position and in my opinion it is truly a very vicious "ripper-bill" and Gov. Scranton is the person proposed for President of the United States? Ah, boy!

I also would like to comment on your editorial on "Tourist Promotion" in Friday Feb. 28th issue. First, I would like to say I agree with you 100 per cent, and especially that portion of it, and I quote:

"But there are other county projects more in need of help from the commissioners at the moment than the vacation bureau."

On a nudist camp bulletin board in sub-zero weather: "Clothed for the season."

Play producer Josh Logan's mother Susan, who comes from the deep South and reveres its every tradition, was taken aback a bit when, early in World War II, the son of a fine old family she knew was drafted. She rallied, however, when she heard that he was receiving his basic training in Fort Bragg, North Carolina. "How nice for him to be in that part of North Carolina," she nodded, "at rhododendron time!"

First Trout Stocking Set For Lower Pocono Today

MOUNT POCONO — James Hazen, local fish warden, said last night the state would make the first trout stocking regionally for 1964 today at 1 p.m.

He said, "The State Fish Commission truck will arrive at the State Highway Building on Rt. 611 at 1 p.m. and will leave from there to the lower Pocono Creek area."

"The truck will carry 1,700 brook trout and they will be placed in the creek at various points," he added.

Hazen said that the Fish Commission has told him that plans for stocking trout in Monroe County this year call for more than 42,000 fish to be placed in the streams of the county on or before April 17.

The annual trout season opens this year at 5 a.m., April 18.

Hazen reminded all fisherman that the 1964 licenses are now on sale at the county treasurer's office and other licensing agencies. The cost this year is $5.20, which is an increase of $1.75 from last year.

Transue Named To State CD Post

STROUDSBURG — Dr. Richard Gerstell, director of State Council of Civil Defense, appointed Ernest R. Transue, W3-MDO, Stroudsburg, to serve as a member of the State Council of Civil Defense Radio Advisory Committee to represent Eastern Area.

Transue has been affiliated with Monroe County Civil Defense since 1951. He served as county radio officer for three years and is currently the County Civil Defense Division Chief of Communications and Warning.

He has been licensed by the Federal Communications Commission as an amateur radio operator for 18 extra classes for eight years and as a commercial radio telephone operator first class for seventeen years.

During World War II, Transue served as a combat radio operator with a tank division.

He has been employed as an engineer at the local radio station since 1947 and has been chief engineer at WVPO since 1948.

In addition to Transue, the State Radio Advisory Committee includes the State Radio Officer (RACES and the Eastern, Central and Western Area Radio Officers (RACES) — Gilbert L. Crossley, W3YA (Central Area) and Richard A. Gilson, W3NQA (Western Area).

Firm Sues Inn Man

STROUDSBURG — A Philadelphia firm has brought a complaint against John L. Hitzel, trading as the Tabard Inn, of Scotrun, asking for a total of $1,200 allegedly owed the firm.

The firm, Pierce and Reese, Inc., of 130-32 N. Delaware Ave., Philadelphia, deals in food, and restaurant materials and goods.

The first count alleges that Hitzel borrowed $1,000 from the firm on June 15, 1963, and has failed to repay the loan. The second count alleges that Hitzel owes the firm $200 as a balance on a number of bills for goods, materials, and services.

279 Students To Vie In Merit Tests

STROUDSBURG — National Merit Scholarship tests will be given to 279 students from Monroe County's four public high schools Tuesday, March 10, and Saturday, March 14.

All students who wish to be considered for Merit Scholarships to be awarded in 1965 should take the test at these times, according to guidance directors at East Stroudsburg Area, Stroud Union, Pleasant Valley and Pocono Mountain high schools.

Tuesday 52 students will take the test at Pocono Mountain, Saturday 125 students from Stroud Union, 72 from East Stroudsburg and 30 from Pleasant Valley will take tests at their respective high schools.

The qualifying test is a three-hour examination of educational development and is the first step in the tenth annual competition for four-year Merit Scholarships.

Test scores of students who are examined in March will be reported to their schools before May 15. The scores are used by guidance counselors to help students make decisions about college.

Guidance counselors in the four high schools are Raymond Serfass, Stroud Union; James Werkheiser, East Stroudsburg; James Paul, Pleasant Valley; and George Webb, Pocono Mountain.

Bangor Students Guest Speakers

RICHMOND, Pa. — Three Bangor Area High School pupils were the guest speakers at this week's Richmond Lions Club meeting.

The youths were Barry Ott, William Bush and Paul Smith. They spoke of their recent tour of Europe.

They were introduced by George Ott Sr., vocational agriculture teacher at Bangor Area High School. The boys told of the statecowned farms and cities behind the Iron Curtain and their visits elsewhere in Europe.

Points of their tour included Scotland, England, Denmark, Sweden, France, Belgium, East and West Germany, Czechoslovakia and Hungry.

The Richmond Lions Club was one of the sponsors of the tour.

French Majors To Read Play

EAST STROUDSBURG—William G. Hope, visiting professor from France, has announced that the Alfred deMusset play, "Il Faut Qu'une Porte Soit Quverte ou Fermee," will be read by the East Stroudsburg State French majors.

The presentation will take place on Wednesday, March 11, at 3 p.m. in the campus drama workshop. Anyone interested in French may attend, and there will be no admission charge.

The two students who will give the reading are Frances Caggiano, a junior from Hawley, and Timothy Challman, a freshman from Mt. Pocono. Both are enrolled in the Secondary Educationcation curriculum with a specialization in French.

Mild throughout period but slightly cooler Saturday night and again Tuesday night. Precipitation may total from one-tenth to one-half inch. A chance of a few sprinkles over northern mountain sections Saturday and more general rain over the region Sunday night and Monday.

Middle Atlantic States—Temperatures will average about 5 degrees above normal. Cooler Sunday but warmer thereafter. Precipitation late Saturday and again about Monday may average one-half inch.

Tourist Aides Meet With Governor

STROUDSBURG — Local representatives of tourist service industries joined others around the state Wednesday in lunching with Gov. William Scranton in Harrisburg.

The luncheon signalled the start of Pennsylvania Tourist Preparation month, which Scranton has called "a time to remind citizens of the tourist attractions of Pennsylvania and of the simple but effective courtesies they can extend to visitors to make them feel welcome."

The guests were selected by local tourist promotion agencies.

Representatives from the Pocono Mountains were Thomas Gangewere, president of Lake Harbor Marina; George Branch of the Delaware River Joint Toll Commission; officer John Baujan, assistant chief of Stroudsburg police.

Also John Crandall, general manager of Pocono Manor Inn and newly elected president of the Governor's Tourist Advisory Council; Harry Kiesendahl, business manager of the Wayne County tourist promotion agency; Don Kranich, business manager of the Pike promotion agency, and John Calhoun, executive secretary of the Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau.

Scranton said that the representatives were on the "front line in meeting and greeting travelers."

He said, "Pennsylvania has more to offer the tourist than any other state in the union. One of our greatest assests is our hospitality. We must do everything possible to make visitors feel at home and wanted in Pennsylvania, so that they realize that Pennsylvania is a good place to live, work, and travel."

Secretary of Commerce John K. Tabor, who chaired the luncheon, announced plans for extensive newspaper, radio and television support of Tourist Preparation Month. Throughout the month, Tourist Promotion Agencies around the state will be holding meetings for citizens to inform them of the tourist attractions of their areas and of ways in which they can be helpful to the traveler.

Yetter, Eshback Help Pass 5 Bills

HARRISBURG — Rep. Van D. Yetter (D-Monroe County), and Rep. J. Russell Eshback (R-Pike County) voted in favor of five bills before the General Assembly in Harrisburg this week.

The bills, all of which were passed, were HB-8, HB-10, HB-16, HB-32, and Senate Resolution 104.

HB-8 is the appropriation of an additional $3.5 million to make up shortages this year in state grants to public schools.

HB-10 is the appropriation of $50,000 to the Department of Agriculture for development and operation of an open dairy show.

HB-16 is the appropriation of $65,000 for war veterans blinded through service connected injuries. This is an amendment to an act passed in 1963.

HB-32 is the appropriation of $500,000 to the Department of Public Instruction for community colleges and technical schools.

Senate Resolution 104 urges matching appropriations to the federal Manpower Development and Training Act of 1962.

Edward Anthony Funeral Held

TANNERSVILLE — Funeral services were held for Edward Anthony, 80, of Woodland Road, Mount Pocono, Friday at 2 p.m. at Gantzhorn Funeral Home in Tannersville. The Rev. Elmer Meissner officiated.

Burial was in the Pocono Lake Cemetery.

The Pallbearers were Donald Widdoss, Charles Engle, Edward Dyson, Landis Shafer, Boyd DeHaven and Joseph Carrier.

Workshop Renamed Burnley

STROUDSBURG — The board of directors of the previously named Sheltered Workshop, renamed the workshop "The Burnley Workshop of the Poconos" at a meeting Thursday night.

The workshop was named in memory of Ralph Burnley Jr. who died three years ago. The late Mr. Burnley was totally blind, a native of Monroe County and a member of the Pocono Mountain Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The local chapter of the Jaycees is sponsoring the fund raising drive for the workshop.

In other business, the directors discussed a location for the workshop and the applications for three staff positions. They took no action on the applications or the location site.

Just Between Us — —

—By Bobby Westbrook

Ralph H. Smith, a member of the faculty at East Stroudsburg State College, and newly elected president of the Dutch Treat Club, has a problem. Everybody calls him "Frank". Since even his middle name isn't Frank, there isn't another Frank Smith at the college, and he doesn't know any other Frank Smith, this is disconcerting.

It's disconcerting enough when his friends call him Frank but when he gets high-pressured into the job of president of Dutch Treat it's even more disconcerting to have the ubiquitous Frank get the credit. Since Ralph has been at the college off and on since 1952, it seems about time things got squared away.

Doing a bit of research as to possible reasons for the slips, I figure that it's a sort of "town and gown" confusion. True there are no Frank Smith's at the college but there are four Frank or Franklin Smith's around, including two rather well-known men-about-town.

There's Frank O. Smith, best-known for his antiques and his visits to Wintherthur, and Franklin Smith of Stroudsburg Glass, etc., etc. All quite different, from each other and from Ralph H., and probably from Ralph F. whom I don't know.

Or maybe it's Dutch Treat, since Grant Bartholomew, doing yeoman duty as president through this past year, kept getting called Paul. Both Bartholomews are teachers, but there that resemblance ends.

Of a Friday night with more stories left out than got in, I'd be glad to transfer all responsibility to Mary Smith or Jane Doe, but what I get is my maiden name, unless people are really provoked when they call me "Now Listen Here!"

Rector and Pastor Discuss Union of Two Denominations

Mount Pocono—Representatives of the Episcopal and Methodist Churches discussed the question "Should We Unite" at the meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Mount Pocono Methodist Church.

The pastor, Rev. Wesley Meixell, and the rector of the Trinity Episcopal Church, Mount Pocono, Rev. Ernest Young, led the discussion. They discussed religion in general and the few differences which marked the denominations.

Members participated in the question and answer period which followed. Mrs. William Wright announced the Ingathering to be held at Calvary Memorial Church, Easton, on April 7 and asked that donations be brought to the March meeting when World Banks will also be turned in.

Mrs. Mason Linn invited anyone who likes to sew to join with the Young Women's Circle to make robes for the choir. Plans were discussed for the confirmation of six girls which will take place on Palm Sunday.

The parsonage committee announced that work of renovating and repairing at the parsonage had been completed.

Mrs. Earl Dennis was named to take charge of altar flowers for March. The WSCS voted $5 to be sent to missions through the Northeastern District.

During the social hour, a corsage and decorated cake was presented to Mrs. Nellie Sharbaugh in honor of her 80th birthday. Mrs. Sharbaugh is active in the work of the society and of the church. Refreshments were served by Mrs. David Bisbing, Mrs. Gerald Possinger, Miss Cora Bisbing, Mrs. George Bean and Mrs. Paul Derr.

Preceding the meeting, a World Day of Prayer service was held, directed by Mrs. Charles Peterson.

Services At Grace Church For Girl Scouts

East Stroudsburg — Girl Scout Sunday will be observed at both the 8:30 and 11 a.m. services on Sunday at Grace Lutheran Church, East Stroudsburg.

The church sponsors four units: Brownie Troop 322, Mrs. James Price, Jr., leader assisted by Mrs. Albert France and Mrs. James King; Junior Girl Scout Troop 301, with Mrs. John Barnes assisted by Mrs. Douglas Scheirer; Cadette Troop 313 with Mrs. Harry Thran and Mrs. Rachel Sarley, leaders; Senior Troop 314 with Mrs. Marion Kintner assisted by Mrs. Donald Berger and Mrs. Laura Bauscher.

Junior Scouts Linda Scheirer, Cindy Reed, Marlene Martz and Debbie Christine will be ushers at the 8:30 a.m. service.

Senior Troop 314 which has two of its members selected for national honors this summer, recently secured, cut and installed foam - rubber pew rack pads for the sanctuary.

Bon Voyage For Member Off To Egypt

East Stroudsburg — Mrs. Clarence Dupee who left this week for a trip to Egypt was honored at the meeting of the Sunshine Class of the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church this week.

The meeting was held in the church parlors with 22 members present. Mrs. Raymond Smiley, president, presented the Easter story from the New Testament. Mrs. Dewey Jacoby read "Voice of the Cross" and Mrs. Walter Brown, "One Single Event."

Mrs. Chauncey Bensley led in prayer and Easter hymns were sung. The class will present a lily for the church's Easter decorations in memory of Mr. and Mrs. George Metzgar.

At the business meeting plans were announced for a rummage sale to be held April 9 and 19 at the Butz Store, South Courtland St.

Refreshments were served by Miss Helen Grant and her committee from a table decorated with Spring flowers and St. Patrick's decorations.

Book Club Monday

Stroudsburg - Book Club will meet on Monday night at 8 at the home of Mrs. Merlin Rutt, Bryant St., Stroudsburg for their annual Hash Night when members report on anything they have read recently which they wish to share with the group.

Demonstration By Pupils At Morey PTA

Stroudsburg — The Parent Teachers Assn. of the Morey Elementary School in Stroudsburg will meet March 9 at 8 p.m. at the school.

George Metropoulos, physical educator instructor for the Stroud Union School District, will be in charge of the program. He will present an exhibition using pupils from the school. The program will feature the new "physeducator" used in physical exercises.

Mrs. Doris Barry's third grade homeroom won the attendance prize at the school for the third time this year, according to Robert Widmer, president of the group.

Mrs. Haldorf Honored At Baby Shower

East Stroudsburg — A surprise baby shower was held in honor of Mrs. Kenneth Haldorf of Normal St., East Stroudsburg with Miss Bonnie Fenical of Echo Lake as hostess.

Lavendar, favorite color of the guest of honor, was used as the theme of the decorations. An umbrella decorated in pink and white was decorated with orchids with matching streamers to the gift table. A cake, baked by Mrs. Lucille Hardy, sister of the guest of honor, was also decorated in pink and lavendar. Stuffed animals and lavendar and white orchids formed the centerpiece which was composed of corsages given to each guest.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Pat Davies, Mrs. Leah Durant, Mrs. Lucille Hardy, Mrs. Frances Pugh, Nancy Bitterman, Nancy Baker, Kathy Sebring, Katie Smith, Lucinda LaBardie, Lucille Lorenzet by Bonnie Fenical.

Also sending gifts were Mrs. Jayne Newhauser of Hackettstown, N. J., and Mrs. Mardean Fenical of Echo Lake.

Registration Stressed By TLC Council

East Stroudsburg — The TLC Council of Republican Women meeting yesterday morning in the conference room of the Monroe Security Bank and Trust Co., East Stroudsburg, had a double reason for celebrating: two new members, both of whom registered to vote the same morning.

Mrs. Ray Cholerton and Mrs. Hedwig Ackerman were accompanied by TLC president, Mrs. Mary Fontanella to the court house where on their way to register they met both Judge Fred W. Davis and County Commissioner John Price.

At the meeting, following cake and coffee, the council discussed registration with Monday, March 9 as the deadline.

Dale Knecht 12 Years Old

Pocono Pines — A birthday party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Knecht in honor of the 12th birthday of their son, Dale.

Music, games and gifts were enjoyed and refreshments were served to Kenneth Welrich Jr., Dennis Knecht, Richard Daily, Richard Keiper, David Baxter, Steven Rebedda, Bart Bolz, Ernest Lewis Jr., Paul Majer, Billy Quinn, Eugene Meckes of Long Pond and Dean Pope of Tobyhanna.

Hazel Heller, 14 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Eilber of 239 Washington St., East Stroudsburg, is a contestant in the Miss Seventeen Model contest on Saturday afternoon. She is active in chorus and art.

Garden Club's Garden Days For Outdoor Scholarships

Stroudsburg Scholarships in the field of outdoor education is a project of the Monroe County Garden Club who hopes to raise funds for the scholarship through their Garden Days this Summer.

At the executive board meeting this week, Mrs. Elwood Grant reported on the camps specializing in such work and was authorized to seek available, interested students.

The board also completed plans for the March Salad Bowl luncheon. The telephone tree will be used to call members to arrange for the birthday tables. Special invitations have been issued to several guests.

Friday, May 22 has been selected as the date for the Garden Club's bus trip to the World's Fair. Mrs. Ernest Schwartz, transportation chairman, announced that a block of tickets had been purchased and members planning to go are asked to make reservations by April 1 in order to secure certain "extras." Reservations may be made with Mrs. Schwartz of Mrs. Edgar Van Why.

In other projects, the board agreed to participate in Wyckoff's arrangement contest. Members willing to serve as hostesses at the Bowman's Hill Wild Flower preserve during April, May or June were asked to call Mrs. Elwood Grant. Members have been invited to attend the annual meeting of District 2 on April 10 at the Holiday Inn, Route 22 with the Bethlehem Garden Club as hosts. Reservations are due April 3.

Mrs. Frank S. Fuller, garden therapy chairman, presented a plan for providing Easter fragrance for the blind.

Mrs. Paul Y. Heller, book chairman, was authorized to purchase two books for the Garden Shelf at the county library.

Mrs. Elwood Grant, conservation chairman, also reported that a 'soft" detergent which will decompose in sewage treatment has been placed on the market. Conservationists have been concerned about non-solvable detergents polluting the streams.

Present were Mrs. George M. Rung, president; Mrs. Bernard Peters, Miss Anna C. Courtright, Mrs. Edgar W. Van Why, Mrs. Vernon L. Wallace, Mrs. Edwin Treible, Mrs. A. Starr Phelps, Mrs. E. R. Travis, Mrs. John M. Gebbie, Mrs. Thomas Shoesmith, Mrs. Ernest Schwartz, Mrs. J. Harold Lanterman, Mrs. Frank S. Fuller, Mrs. R. E. Hamblin, Mrs. Elwood Grant, Mrs. Paul Y. Heller, Mrs. Russell Harmon, Miss Grace DePue, Mrs. Charles A. Bell and Mrs. Paul McBride.

Synodical Guild Winds Up Affairs

Easton — Mrs. Frederick Quig of Stroudsburg, president of the East Pennsylvania Synodical Woman's Guild of the United Church of Christ, presided at the meeting held at Memorial Church Easton, with officers of the Synodical.

The organization which included the Guilds of the Valley, Delaware and Mountain Region, was dissolved and the remaining funds were dispursed as follows:

Phoebe Home, Allentown, two-unit bedroom, $1000; Penn-Northeast Conference, commission on lay life and work, $200; Pennsylvania Council United Church Women, $68; and Mrs. Quig, expenses for telephone and postage, $5.07.

The worship service, "Keys for Locked Doors" was led by Mrs. Harold Young and Mrs. Fred Quig. A letter was read from Rev. Everett C. Parker, director of the office of communications concerning programing and commercialization on television and radio. Another communication was read from the Women's Planning Committee of the Japan International Christian University Foundation.

The 1964 project is the raising of $100,000 for the language division for the university. Mrs. Quig a member of the committee explained that the project was undertaken that language is a bridge to greater understanding between East and West.

Mrs. Stanley Leiby, wife of the host pastor, served refreshments. Attending were Esther Young, Mary Hontz, Jane Leiby, Idella Hester, Reta Phillips, Marion Hartzell, Maud Newman, Jean Wieand, Anna Bartholomew, Bertha Wenner, Margaret Gerhart and Lucy Quig.

Hospital Aux. To Be Guests Of Mrs. O'Neill

Stroudsburg — The General Hospital Aux. will be the guests of Mrs. Gerald O'Neill at the Penn-Stroud Hotel in Tuesday afternoon at 2:30.

Mrs. John J. Pentz Jr. will entertain with readings for the Easter season. Mrs. O'Neill will be assisted by a committee as hostess.

At Pinehurst

Pinehurst, N. C. — Mrs. Robert James of 1004 Main St., Stroudsburg, and Monroe County's register and recorder, Mrs. Roman Batory, of Cherry Valley are taking an early spring vacation at Pinehurt, N. C.

THE WYCKOFF SHOPPER

Wonder if you've seen the beautiful new shoes for Spring? Many of them are patents in high color, so shiny and sleek they remind me of enamel work on the copper jewelry in our Jewelry Department. When I mentioned this to Kay Widmer she said, "I hadn't thought of that exactly . . . but they are called 'porcelain'."

There is one shade of blue so delightful I can't describe it . . . it is not a copen, not a navy, not a powder shade . . . it's just glorious, and I do wish I had a really good excuse to buy it. In the new shoes, the treatment of navy adds a new color dimension to that classic color too. And there is a dazzling red that looks exactly like a bright red apple that has been glazed.

* * *

Walter Wyckoff hurried away from business the other day for the nicest reason in the world. His daughter, Beth, was five years old.

Walter explained to Marlene Andrews and myself that this was Bethie's "Golden" Birthday . . . she was five on the fifth. I had never heard of a Golden Birthday before, but Walter tells me when your age coincides with your birth date that is it! Here I had my golden birthday at the age of 24, and never even knew it. Marlene won't have hers until she's thirty . . . which means she may never have one at all because what woman today ever admits she's that old??????

* * *

Bill Wells was away from business for a very good reason today too. He traveled to Hazelton to meet Miss Deanne Dailey, the attractive young merchandise coordinator of Seventeen's staff who came to Stroudsburg for last evening's Seventeen fashion show and contest, and is remaining today.

Deanne is working against heavy odds. She has a dreadful cold, and is most uncomfortable . . . but since fashion shows are one of the many interesting forms of "show busines" her motto is that of an old trouper: "the show must go on."

* * *

These are "Flower Days" once again at Wyckoff's with Wyckoff's offering a tremendous number of values in every department as well as a Whizzer Special and Sears having its usual weekend Sizzler. What with the Millinery Opening (and aren't those hats thrilling!) and the Seventeen shows, this is certainly far from a dull place. Fact is, we're all up to here in work and excitement.

One of the popular places in our store today as always will undoubtedly be our Tea Room where Chinese Egg Roll, soup or chilled juice, fried rice, buttered spinach, pineapple salad, and sherbert with fortune cookies will cost only 1.50. I do love our Chinese Egg roll . . . it's always a real treat. But those fortune cookies leave me cold. They taste good, but the fortunes never seem to be as far-out as most women would like. Since fortunes never come true anyway, I'd like one to promise me the world with a gold fence around it—and Cary Grant besides!

Winners In Scout Bake-Off Contribute Their Recipes

By Linda Pipker
Daily Record Home Economist

Stroudsburg—I have a tip for the young men of our communities. In another ten years or so when they're getting ready to choose a wife, they should be sure to ask her if she was a Girl Scout. If she was, chances are she will be a good cook!

The Girl Scouts have been busy as beavers the last few weeks competing in Bake-Off contests. A few weeks ago Frieda Coco asked me to help judge her her troop (#351) bake-off and believe me, it wasn't easy. Betty Noack, Marjorie Hamblin and I were impressed with the quality and attractiveness of the baked products prepared by the twelve and thirteen year olds.

It was difficult not only to judge cookies against cakes, but everything was so good! After getting down to fine points we selected a delicious chewy brownie topped with a dob of whipped cream as the winner. When we announced our decision, the girls squealed with delight that Cecilia Lundergan's brownies had won.

Last week I was given the recipes for the three District 5 winners and was quite thrilled when I saw that Cecila had won this contest, too and had the opportunity to go to Scranton Bake-Off as a district winner. Cecilia won three local contests with these good brownies and I'm sure the Girl Scouts are proud of her. Plus the fact, I bet you'd like to have the recipe:

Cecilia's Winning "Choice Brownies"

4 squares unsweetened chocolate
2-3 cup of oleo or butter
2 cups granulated sugar
4 eggs
1 cup cake flour
½ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons vanilla
1 cup chopped nuts

Melt chocolate with the oleo or butter and pour into mixing bowl. Add sugar and eggs one at a time, beating after each addition. Add cake flour sifted with the salt and stir well. Add vanilla and chopped nuts. Pour into an 8 inch by 12 inch greased pan. Bake 30 minutes in a 350 oven. Let cool 5 minutes, cut into squares. Remove from pan. Cool completely on cake racks. Before serving, top each brownie with a dob of whipped cream.

Tomorrow is the beginning of Girl Scout Week and we're all happy to salute this wonderful organization. Young girls are molding characters during these formative years and the ideals of Girl Scouts are helping to build strong traits. One of the things they must learn is to be a good loser and if they are willing to enter competition, they have to accept the decision of the judges.

It must have been difficult to be a judge in the District Bake-Off for by the looks of these recipes, they must have all been good. This next one intrigues me. I sounds different and I assume it's a cookie. This Troop No. 339 winner was Roxanne Kaiser.

Roxanne's Golden Tassies

Dough:
1 stick butter (½ cup)
1-3 ox. package cream cheese
1 cup flour

Blend softened butter and cream cheese together until creamy. Add flour gradually and blend thoroughly. Divide into 24 balls. Press into very small muffin pans.

Filling:
½ cup coarsely cut pecans
1 egg
3-4 cup light brown sugar
1 tablespoon melted butter
dash salt
1 teaspoon vanilla

Beat egg, add sugar, butter, salt, and vanilla. Mix well. Sprinkle half of pecans in muffin cups of dough; spoon in liquid filling and rest of pecans on top. Bake in a 350 oven for 15 to 18 minutes. Reduce temperature to 250 and bake for another 10 minutes.

The other competitor in this Cadette-Senior Girl Scout Bake-Off was Nancy Davies of Troop No. 338. Her winning recipe was for a quick bread that sounds good.

Nancy's Banana-Nut Bread

1-3 cup shortening
½ cup sugar
2 eggs
1¾ cups sifted all purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup mashed ripe bananas
½ cup chopped walnuts

Cream together shortening and sugar; add eggs and beat well. Sift together dry ingredients; add to creamed mixture alternately with mashed bananas, blending well after each addition. Stir in nuts. Pour into well greased 9½ inchx5 inchx3 inch loaf pan. Bake in moderate 350 oven for 40-45 minutes or until done. Remove from pan; cool on rack.

Greed And Glory

LOS ANGELES—The lingering commotion over the bringing to gaff of Sandy Koufax, the well-known demigod, has left scientists with two interesting thoughts.

First, it is apparent, in fact painfully clear, that Sandy is still new at holding out.

And second, his reaction to the circumstances surrounding his signing with the Los Angeles Dodgers hints that he has introduced a new dimension to the holdout dodge.

In earlier days of baseball, players held out repeatedly when confronted with the dark prospect of a long spring training in Florida. It was a dismal outlook, certainly something to be avoided if possible. The holdout was a handy device.

Later, players held out for another reason, namely, money. The Mantles and the Williamses and the Marises had their principles, and they weren't going to cower in the face of management threats.

Little were they concerned with the problem now disturbing Sandy, which is the preservation of his image.

It is his unclouded view that the manner in which the Dodgers treated his recent holdout has destroyed his reputation, giving the world the shocking impression that he is, among other things, greedy and unreasonable.

As pointed out above, Sandy is new at holding out.

The argument between Koufax and the Dodgers developed following a story by Bob Hunter in which their differences were explained in detail.

The Dodgers pointed out that they had offered Sandy a $30,000 raise, which would bring his salary to $65,000, and Koufax was quoted as saying that unless he got more, he would have to consider a job outside baseball which would provide for him handsomely for at least 20 years.

You looked at Sandy admiringly. A little wholesome leverage was good for the game and had to win the respect even of O'Malley, who is understanding of these matters.

Walter, in fact, is as disappointed as an Italian shopkeeper if a guy makes no interesting negotiation.

Rather than stand on his pitch, and let the Dodgers stand on theirs, Koufax says that he became so upset when the story appeared in print that he signed prematurely to avoid embarrassment.

And he has complained since that the damage to his image is almost irreparable.

We have visions of little boys tugging at his sleeves and mumbling tearfully, "Say it isn't so, Sandy."

The public doesn't work up too much sympathy for an athlete who just signs for $70,000 a year. Nor is his reputation harmed if he employs all his cunning to get $80,00 or $125,000.

Koufax has responded far out of proportion to the stimulus, obviously taking his feelings too seriously.

It is safe to assume that the Dodger explanation to the press of the Maury Wills holdout isn't going to upset Maury, who comes from the mature school of resisters concerned only with the money.

The prospect of the world's judging him as "greedy" won't disturb Wills, as long as the Dodgers pay him what he feels he is worth.

As a general rule, it is most uncommon for ball players beyond the small money bracket to have their salaries doubled from one year to the next, as has been the case with Koufax.

This happened to Roger Maris after his dispatching of 61 home runs, but quite likely to no one else of late.

Koufax is scarcely undeserving of his new riches, considering the remarkable year he experienced in 1963. It entailed more than the winning of 25 games. It was the matchless control, the consummate ease with which he pitched shutouts, the startlingly high percentage of times he lasted the distance, the earned run average of 1.88.

And, of course, it came to a climax fantastically dramatic with his trimming the Yankees twice in the World Series and setting a strikeout record of 15 for a Series game.

Understandably, he just about swept the boards in the way of baseball awards last year, requiring his presence all over the country before groups paying him homage.

What he built up couldn't be destroyed by one salary dispute. In his boyishness, Sandy only thought so.

Two Miami Hotel Cooks Win Richest Track Pool

MIAMI (AP) — Two Miami Beach hotel cooks, one of whom "never had an extra buck in my pocket in my life," cashed a $2 twin double ticket at Gulfstream Park Friday for $84,114.

Obviously not satisfied, however, with the biggest payoff in United States horse racing history, Juan Lopez, 52, and Danny Tuazo, 60, took part of their winnings in cash and remained at the track for further investments.

They made their huge killing Thursday. When they failed to show up at the cashier's window before closing, it was feared that the ticket might have been destroyed when their horse, Initabas, ran second in the eighth race. He was placed first when the original winner, Gathering Dusk, was disqualified.

"Shook All Over"

Lopez, who had gone to the track to buy the ticket, said that when the payoff was announced "I just held on to the ticket tight and went home shaking all over."

Friday morning he telephoned Tuazon, who had split the ticket with him and after a joyous celebration with fellow employes of the hotel, they went to the track to collect.

Each accepted a $40,000 check and the balance of his half share in cash. Then they marched to the sellers windows to see if their fabulous luck had changed.

Lopez, a Puerto Rican, and Tuazon, a Filipino, were vague about their betting sysem.

Special Method

Lopez said he picks horses by numbers instead of form, using a Latin method called "charadas" in which certain objects or creatures are represented by numbers.

But Tuazon said he picked the 2-7-5-1 combination which scored for them Thursday.

"At the dog track," he explained, "I bet on a 2-5 combination and 2-7 came in. Later, I bet on 2-7 and 5-1 win. So I put this all together and bet on 2-7-5-1 in the twin double."

Luck was with them all the way. They won the first half of the double with Scattergood, $142.60, and Col. Mengel, $8.60, in the fifth and sixth races. After this, 218 tickets remained alive.

Entire Pool

Lopez and Tuazon then exchanged their ticket for Initabas in the eighth and Spendapenie in the ninth. Fortunately, when Initabas won, all other bettors were wiped out and the two cooks became owners of the entire twin double pool.

Spendapenie ran seventh in the ninth race, won by Doctor Hank, $4.

The payoff broke the record of $79,660 won by Joe Mariano, a Waterbury, Conn., bartender at the Roosevelt Raceway harness racing track last Nov. 6.

Lopez declared that "I've never had an extra buck in my pocket in my life." He has been at Miami Beach since 1957 and has a wife, son and daughter at Camuy, Puerto Rico.

Tuazon was reluctant to talk much with newsmen. He works in the winter here and in the summers at mountain resorts, and is a lifelong bachelor.

Hawkins Leads At Pensacola

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—Fred Hawkins, a frequent contender but only a one-time winner in more than 17 years of action on the professional golf tour, grabbed a one-stroke lead Friday in the $30,000 Pensacola Open with a nine-under par 135.

The 40-year-old Hawkins, whose only victory in a 72-hole PGA tournament came in the 1956 Oklahoma City Open, shot a five-under-par 67 in the second round despite a touch of stomach virus that bothered him throughout the round.

Hawkins wrested the lead from Ken Venturi, who came in early with his finest round in several years—a seven-under-par 65—for 136. The 65 was the low score of the first two rounds.

Defending champion Arnold Palmer moved into contention with a four-under-par 68, getting a lift when he holed out from a bunker for a birdie on his 17th hole. Palmer stands two strokes off the lead at 137, where he is tied with four regular Miller Barber. Barber also shot 68.

USSR Coach Predicts '64 Olympic Win

MOSCOW (AP)—The veteran coach of the Soviet track and field team, Gabriel Korobkov, predicts that the Russians will be so powerful at Tokyo that they will win the 1964 Olympic Games "regardless of the competition."

"Our athletes have been training for five months," Korobkov said in an article in Sovietsky Sport, "and some of them have been training since the end of last season."

He said he expected the strongest challenge to come from the United States, Britain and the combined German team, but he added:

"The Soviet athletes can win in the Olympics under any circumstances."

Korobkov said Russian shot putters have been getting in shape by doing knee bends with quarter-ton weights strapped across their shoulders. Also, he added, they have been lifting weights of 350 to 375 pounds up to their chests and pressing 480 pounds while lying on their backs.

He said he had one shot-putter, Viktor Lipsnis, whom he expects to reach 65 feet, 7 inches, and three others who will do 62 feet and better. Bob Nieder of the United States, won the shot at the 1960 Olympics with 64 feet, 6¾ inches.

Russian middle-distance runners have been getting in shape, the Soviet coach said, by running 300 to 450 miles this winter.

While he is confident of winning performances in the distance and field events, Korobkov doesn't expect the Russians to do much in the sprints, a specialty usually dominated by the Americans.

Korbokov said he is attempting to polish up baton passing for a better showing in the relays.

The final tryouts for the Russian Olympic team will be held Aug. 27-30 at Kiev.

Calumet's Derby Hopefuls In Race

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

A $15,000 race, featuring Calumet Farm's hopes for an eighth Kentucky Derby Victory, overshadows a pair of $100,000-added handicaps on Saturday's national horse racing program.

Calumet's pair of Kentucky Jug and Ky. Pioneer head a field of 10 3-year-olds named for the seven furlongs of the Hutcheson at Gulfstream Park. Both were lightly campaigned as 2-year-olds as trainer Jimmy Jones gave them plenty of time to develop, with an eye on Calumet's first Kentucky Derby winner since Tim Tam carried the tamied devil red and blue silks to victory in 1958.

Ky. Pioneer, a son of Nashua out of a Bull Lea mare, Rosewood, has raced five times this year with victories in his last two starts, including one at 1⅛ miles.

Three Straight

Kentucky Jug, sired by Allbhai and also out of a Bull Lea mare, Jug Lu, won three straight this year before running third in a six-furlong race last Monday.

Jones said the immediate objective of the two colts was the April 4 running of the Florida Derby.

The pair figures to be the short priced favorite Saturday since the remainder of the field includes only one stakes winner, Geology.

For owners and trainers looking for the big money Saturday's program includes the $100,000-added John B. Campbell Handicap at Bowie and two divisions of the San Juan Capistrano on the grass at Santa Anita. The Capistrano originally was a $100,000-added event but when 21 horses were entered it was split with each division worth $75,000-added.

The Campbell, at 1 1-16 miles, attracted only seven but the field includes two of the top handicap performers of the winter campaign — Montpelier's Mongo and Gedney Farm's Gun Bow. Each will pack 126 pounds. The race will be worth $109,400 if seven start.

Clubs Put Prestige At Stake

NEW YORK (AP)—Two tournament-bound college basketball teams could find the post-season competition costly. They are Miami of Florida, the nation's top major college offensive outfit, and New Mexico, No. 1 defensive team.

Figures released Friday by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau and including games of last Wednesday show Miami leading Detroit by a slim margin of 96.11 to 96.08 points a game. Detroit has completed its season with the result that a letdown by the Hurricanes in the National Invitation Tournament opening in New York next Thursday could drop them out of first place.

Defensively, New Mexico, headed for the NIT, holds a minute lead over San Jose State—51.3 to 51.4.

Twin City, Buck's Win 'Y' Contests

STROUDSBURG — Twin City routed J.A. Reinhardt 135-53, and Buck's - East Stroudsburg Hardware bumped Chet's & Lanterman's in a double overtime 103-97 in a pair of Thursday night YMCA Industrial Basketball League games.

Charlie Chronister ripped the nets for 39 points and Jim Barniak added 30 in Twin City's decisive triumph which kept the team in first place. Also hitting double figures for the winners were Dick Lauthrop (27), Mel Fager (25) and Bob Rentschler (14).

Twin City dashed out in front by 33-13 after the first period and was never headed after that.

A 33 - point effort by Don Wescott set the scoring pace for Buck's with Frank Marinaccio contributing 32. King Beers netted 20 toward the triumph.

Doug Shook paced the losers with 39 points.

Expect Wall To Enter Masters Golf

AUGUSTA, Ga. — Art Wall Jr., the Pocono Manor touring pro who is currently leading the field in the Seagram Caribbean trophy points race, is expected to be among the top contenders in the Masters Tournament at Augusta National Golf Club April 9-12.

Among others who have also won invitations to the 1964 Masters are Dave Marr, Phil Rodgers and Wiliam Hyndman III.

Wall, a previous Masters winner, this week established a course record of five under par 67 in the pro-amateur event of the Puerto Rico Open golf tournament at the new Dorado Hilton Hotel and Country Club.

Loses Lead

That provided him with a temporary lead which was lost the next day — Thursday — to newcomer Bob Erickson.

Each year the Masters champions nominate a player, either a professional or an amateur not otherwise eligible to participate. This year they named Marr. Others who received votes were Fred Hawkins, Ted Kroll, George Bayer, Bill Collins, Don Fairfield, John Lotz, Ed Tutwiler, Phil Rodgers and Ken Venturi.

Pocono Archers Set First Shoot

STROUDSBURG — The Pocono Archery Assn. will conduct its first shoot of the season March 15 at the home range.

Family rates have been made available for this year and new memberships are actively being sought by the club which is striving for additional family activity for the summer months

British Tennis Plan Opposed

NEW YORK (AP)—Both the United States and Australia, the only nations that have held the Davis Cup since the war, are expected to oppose a plan of British tennis authorities to eliminate the cup challenge round and make the holder go through elimination rounds.

James B. Dickey, new president of the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association, said Friday the United States would oppose the plan and he thought the Australians would violently object to it.

At the same time, a player revolt which has plunged Australian hopes to regain the cup to a low ebb spread to at least one more top player.

Defies Ban

Marty Mulligan said he plans to fly from Australia to Cairo Saturday to play in the Egyptian championships, in defiance of the Australian Tennis Association ban on overseas play before March 31.

That could lead to making him ineligible for cup play.

Roy Emerson and Ken Fletcher, two other Aussie stars, already have defied the ban. The Australian association has ruled them out of Davis Cup play this year.

Emerson won both points for Australia in the 3-2 victory by the Americans last December. The United States will defend the cup in Cleveland in September.

Increase Expenses

Dickey said the right to defend on home grounds was "one of the good things about winning the cup."

He also said the British proposal, which will be submitted to a meeting of Davis Cup nations, in July, would greatly increase travel expenses.

Under current regulations, the cup holder sits out until a challenger is selected by elimination. The British plan would stage cup play in a fashion similar to a regular tennis tournament.

Files Suit Against Liston

CHICAGO (UPI)—Ben Bentley, former public relations representative of the defunct International Boxing Club, filed suit Friday against ex-heavyweight champion Sonny Liston for $116,100.

Bentley, whose real name is Ben Goldberg, said the amount was for "back wages."

Moran Dies

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP)—Augie Moran, former National League baseball umpire, died Friday. He was 96.

Moran lived here with his daughter, Mrs. Frank Waters.

He umpired in all classifications of baseball and served in the National League in 1903, 1904, 1910 and 1911. After leaving the majors he umpired in the minors until he retired in 1930.

Wilson Retires

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Rams football team lost its No. 1 fullback Friday when Ben Wilson announced his retirement to concentrate on his dental school studies.

Terrell Defeats Zech

NEW YORK (AP)—Tall Ernie Terrell administered a fierce right-handed beating to Gerhard Zech Friday night and knocked the big German heavyweight champion down twice en route to a unanimous 10-round decision.

Zech, a crude 6-foot-7 one-time Berlin butcher boy, weighed 214 for his Madison Square Garden debut. Terrell, the No. 3 ranked heavyweight from Chicago, came in at 206½.

Terrell bombed the willing, awkward German with right hands almost at will through the early going. He dropped the German, who fights from a left-handed stance, for two nine-counts with rights to the jaw in the first.

In the second Zech was looking in dismay and bewilderment at his corner and suffered a cut under the right eye. He suffered a nose bleed in the fourth and seemed generally completely unable to fend off Terrell's right-hand rushes.

Judge Arthur Aidala and referee Colan each had it 6-3-1 for Terrell. Judge Marvin Goldberg called it 5-4-1. The Associated Press scored for Terrell 6-2-2.

It was only the second loss for Zech, who has won 27 and fought one draw. Terrell, making his first start in seven months, now is 35-4.

Lung Cancer Snuffs Life Of Blackburn

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Soft-spoken Tom Blackburn, the man who built the University of Dayton into a national basketball power, died Friday.

The 58-year-old veteran coach was a victim of lung cancer.

Death came in Miami Valley Hospital on Blackburn's fourth visit to the hospital since last September.

It was then that Blackburn underwent surgery for removal of tumerous tissue from his left lung. He later announced he had lung cancer.

No one at the university expected Blackburn to fill his coaching duties this season, but he showed up for his 17th season as boss of the Flyers.

When Blackburn was hospitalized for the last time Feb. 29, he missed a Dayton game for the first time in 17 years.

During that span, Blackburn's magic touch kept Dayton basketball teams in the national limelight almost constantly. In 1962 the Flyers swept aside four favorites to cop the National Invitation Tournament.

He was the winningest active coach in Ohio, with an impressive 351-140 record over the 17-year span.

Survivors include the widow, a son by a previous marriage and a daughter.

N'fld Rotary Club Elects Rev. Lindenmuth President

NEWFOUNDLAND — The Rev. Larry T. Lindenmuth, Moravian minister, was elected president of the Newfoundland Rotary Club during a meeting this week at Green's Restaurant.

Rev. Mr. Lindenmuth succeeds Thomas Gangewere, of Lake Harbor, Greentown, in the office, and heads these officers also selected by the club to serve for 1964-65; Elmer Becker, vice president; Claude Smith, secretary; C. Allen Edwards, treasurer; Thomas Gangewere, Robert Baughan, Leonard Razny, Sr., directors.

Installation of these officers will take place in July.

Rev. Larry T. Lindenmuth

Rev. Mr. Lindenmuth has served as secretary of the club for the past two years, and has been a Rotarian since 1961. He is also chairman of the Greene-Dreher Educational Fund, a community project to aid needy and worthy students gain a higher education. He has served on various Rotary Committees, including the first student exchange committee, and his home was the second host home for the club's student, Camille Foetisch, from Switzerland.

It was annouced that Dr. Raymond Haupert, president of Moravian College and Theological Seminary, will be the speaker at the Newfoundland Rotary Club's meeting at the World's Fair on May 9. His theme will be "Peace Through World Understanding."

The program for this week, introduced by Major Robert Miller, South Sterling, was presented by Pfc Emanuel Giacobbe, 22, of the Tobyhanna Army Depot. Accompanied by Dr. Harold Gilbert, Pfc Giacobbe presented a varied program including "The Lord's Prayer," "Ave Maria," "Granada," "Return to Sorento", and several operatic selections.

The singer, who will appear again for the club's Ladies' Night on April 20, arrived in this country from Italy seven years ago. He has appeared with Keefe Brasselle, and with the DeMarco Sisters at the Hollywood Celebrities Club, and has sung for hospitals, schools, and private parties. He was a member of the Musikal Troupe of Elizabeth, N.J. He has sung at service clubs and NCO parties at Fort Dix and Fort Hayes, and is at present a member of 128 Signal Company, part of the 972nd Signal Battalion at Tobyhanna Army Depot. He plans to continue his musical education after his termination of service in May of this year. He will also appear at the World's Fair program of Rotary on May 9.

Rep. Rooney Presides Over House

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Rep. Fred B. Rooney (D-15th District, Pa.) presided over the House of Representatives Thursday during introduction of H. R. 8000, resolutions and committee reports.

Congr. Rooney served as the presiding officer of the House in the opening segment of the 50th day of the Second Session of the 88th Congress.

The role was not a new one for Rep. Rooney. Since he assumed his seat in the House last August he has been called upon five times by House Speaker John McCormack to preside.

H. R. 8000, the key issue before the House Thursday, is an Administration bill which would levy an excise tax against the purchase of foreign stocks and bonds by Americans when they are bought from foreigners. It is expected that the bill, if it becomes law, would aid greatly in restoring the balance of payments and cut down on the flow of gold from the United States.

Rooney has already gone on record as a strong advocate of the proposed legislation.

Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Saturday, March 7, 1964

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — A rightly determined attitude will carry weight; persuade with tact and respect for others' feelings. Keep everything on time and in its place.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus) — Planetary influences are somewhat mixed now, so aim at steadiness. Rely upon knowledge intelligently sought, and upon good advice. Do not depend solely on your own ideas.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini) — Clear thinking and direct action may be necessary for you to overcome interference with your plans. Refuse to let any one or any thing distract you from the tasks at hand.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — Fine lunar influences. Be in readiness to act when an opening or opportunity of worth appears. You make friends easily; should turn this gift to good advantage.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — Some situations are changing. Don't speculate with what you haven't got. Good organization of work matters essential. Direct energies to the areas where they will do the most good.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo) — Be sure of the logic of statements and decisions; recognize a bright idea — yours or another's. Put into action whatever methods or procedure that can enhance this day.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra) — Do not depart from a rightly chosen path. Listen to your instincts and conscience. There's a world of things to accomplish — now and in future.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio) — Appraise your own work and actions objectively. Are there loopholes you are using to evade what your abilities could undertake? THIS is a time for review.

November 23 to December 21 (Sagittarius) — There's a tendency now to take on more than is wise, and run down energy, become irritated. Avoid it. Also in your desire to get ahead, avoid overrunning another's field or feelings.

December 22 to January 20 (Capricorn) — You can be a successful bargainer, but make certain you are not going outside your limits today, or under-estimating other potentials. Retrench where necessary.

January 21 to February 19 (Aquarius) — Planetary influences mixed. It's possible to gain more ground than may seem likely first, but how you execute tasks, handle "extras," and plan your schedule will tell the story.

February 20 to March 20 (Pisces) — There's a tenseness and mystery about some situations. Clarify wherever you can; do not let matters worsen. It is up to you in MANY instances to save time, energy, aggravation.

YOU BORN TODAY are blessed with a variety of talents to lead a happy, useful and, at times, very stimulating life. This is the Sign of a thinker, of sensitivity and high ideals. You may be disappointed in the way others lack understanding or forget details; you love neatness, careful arrangement. Children of this date are normally well-mannered, kindly. Pisceans gather knowledge quickly and concisely, have reliability and determination. Faults can be self-belittlement, anxiety, overcaution. Build upon faith, the happy outlook, and keep your private interests just that. Birthdate of: Luther Burbank, botanist.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

New Tax Computations Listed By IRS Director

PHILADELPHIA — Kenneth O. Hook, District director, Internal Revenue Service, recently announced new tax computations effecting the new lower withholding rates established by the Revenue Act of 1964 signed by President Johnson.

The new wage and salary payments, effective on March 5, which employers must compensate for in their payroll systems may be a little slow getting started. But, he added, our office will follow a rule of reason in enforcing the effective date, and will not find fault with employers who are delayed a day or two in processing the rate cut.

The withholding tables employers should use in applying the 14 per cent withholding rate were mailed to some four and a half million employers February 10 to allow lead-time in making the payroll changes required, he added.

Also special rules apply to deductions for medical and dental expenses on Federal income tax returns, he said.

Deductible expenses include amounts paid for diagnosis, prevention, cure, correction, or treatment of a physical or mental defect or illness, and for ordinary transportation necessary to ge medical care, he added.

Payments for doctor, dentist, nuse and hospital bills and payments for artificial teeth, hearing aids, medical or surgical appliances, braces, X-ray examination or treatments, and premiums for hospital and medical insurance are deductible, he said.

The cost of medicines and drugs is deductible as medical expense only in the amount it exceeds one per cent of the taxpayer's income reported on line 9, page 1 of Form 1040, regardless of his age.

You cannot deduct payments for funeral expenses, cemetery plots, illegal operations and illegal drugs, life insurance premiums, travel for a rest or change, or the portion of premiums paid for health and accident policies covering loss of earnings, he explained.

The total of the deductible items must be reduced by 3 per cent of the income reported on line 9, page 1 of Form 1040.

If, however, either the taxpayer or his wife is 65 or older, they are not required to reduce the amount of their medical and dental expenses by the 3 per cent of the amount on line 9, page. 1. Also, the amount paid for the care of a mother or father 65 or older is not required to be reduced by the three per cent amount, if the taxpayer furnished over half his parent support for 1963, he said.

There are maximum limitations on the amount of deductible medical expenses, depending on the taxpayer's age, physical condition, and the number of exemptions shown on his return.

Special rules apply to deductions for interest payments on Federal income tax returns, he said.

Additional information is available from Internal Revenue Service upon request.

Mrs. W. E. Andrews

The William Borgers have taken up housekeeping in the apartment vacated by the Sherwood Smith family.

A frame garage housing three lawnmowers, a Wheelhorse, two bicycles and other tools was completely destroyed by fire on Thursday afternoon. The cause of the fire is undeterminded.

Mrs. A. E. Serfass, Slatington and Mildred Kibler, Weissport George and Elton Setzer, Saylorsburg and Miss Elizabeth Hessler, Sciota, called on the Raymond Andrews family on Sunday.

Area Fair Organizations Get State Disbursements

STROUDSBURG — Disburse-ment of almost a half million dollars in fair funds has been completed by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, L. H. Bull, secretary of the dept., announced yesterday.

In the six county area in northeastern Pennsylvania $28,-548.65 was allocated to fair and 4-H associations.

In Monroe County the West End Fair Assn. received $2,336.05, and Monroe County 4-H in Stroudsburg received $2,000.

The Delaware Valley Fair, in Pike County, received $2,104.72. The Pike County 4-H was allocated $2,000.

Blue Valley Farm Show in Bangor, received $2,515.55, and the Northampton County 4-H in Easton received $2,000.

Greene-Dreher-Sterling

In Wayne County and Greene-Dreher-Sterling Fair will receive $2,592.33. The Wayne County Fair is allocated $8,000, and the Wayne County 4-H in Equinunk will get $2,000.

Carbon County Fair in Lehighton has been allocated $3,000.

In Lehigh County the Allentown Fair is allocated $3,000, and the Lehigh County 4-H in Kempton will receive $2,000.

A fund of $55,000 appropriated by the legislature was divided among 92 fair association in the state and in proportion to amounts of premiums paid by the fairs for competitive agriculture events.

Almost 200 fairs shared in the $440,600 disbursement from the Pennsylvania Fair Fund. A total of $773,000 was made available to this fund from proceeds collected from pari-mutual harness racing but since approved applications did not claim all of this money, $333,-000 was turned back into the state's general treasury.

Bloodmobile To Visit ESSC

EAST STROUDSBURG — The Red Cross will conduct a Blood Donor Drive on the campus of East Stroudsburg State College between the hours of 9:30 a.m. and 4:45 p.m., March 18.

Technicians from the regional Red Cross blood bank in Wilkes-Barre will be in attendance for the blood drive.

Dr. George F. Ockershausen, professor of Health Education, is the college Blood Drive chairman. Dr. Ockershausen said that 121 pints were donated last year and they expect a larger turnout this year.

He also stressed that the general public is invited to contribute during the East Stroudsburg State College Blood Drive Day as they did last year.

The gymnasium will be the center for Blood Drive Day at East Stroudsburg State College.

Bangor High Dance Units Selected

BANGOR — Barry Holland, president of the sophomore class of the Bangor Area Joint High School, has announced the committees for the annual dance on Friday, May 1, in the auditorium.

The five committees are decorations and cleanup, orchestra, chaperone, guest and refreshment.

Members of the committees are as follows:

Decoration and clean up — Andrew Bellis, Craig Sleep, Kathy Wallwork, Deborah Miller, Michael Dapkewies, Bill Lawson, Mathias Reisen, Marianne Williams, Beverly Serfass, Ann LaBar, Carolyn Dutt.

Also, Linda Antonioli, Karen Bruch, Raymond Fehr, Robert Hamill, Stephen Jones, Terry Kocher, Rebecca Tucker, Ann Wynne, Karl Rice, Alan Bet, Sam Brown and Tom Brown.

Refreshment — Craig Roberts, David Tieff, Joseph Ruggiero, Wilmer Miller and Peter Bariamis.

Guest — Donna Cainzzo, Wendy Dietz, Kittiann Klingaman, Jane Oyer, Sharon Reimer and Cynthia Trigiani.

Chaperone — Ellen Shoemaker, Kay Shanahan, Cheryl Singer and Sheila Luettgen.

Orchestra — Joseph Naylor, James Campanaro, Mary Gloss, Rory Messinger, Diedre Pensyl, Daborah Pensyl, Donald Pillar and Carol Strunk.

Holland also appointed the following committee to prepare for the annual Mother's Day program.

Speaker committee — Michael Ninno, Jackie Williams, Louise Wagner, David Sweet, David Allen and Judy Borger.

Program committee — Bruce Lohman, Linda Lange, Joseph Ciliberti, Karen Cascario, David Edwards and Patricia Ninno.

Other officers for the Class of 1966 are Ann Herd, vice president; Diane Jones, secretary, and Kathy Buzzard, treasurer.

Arnold Wynne is the class advisor.

Grenadiers Prepare For Parade Year

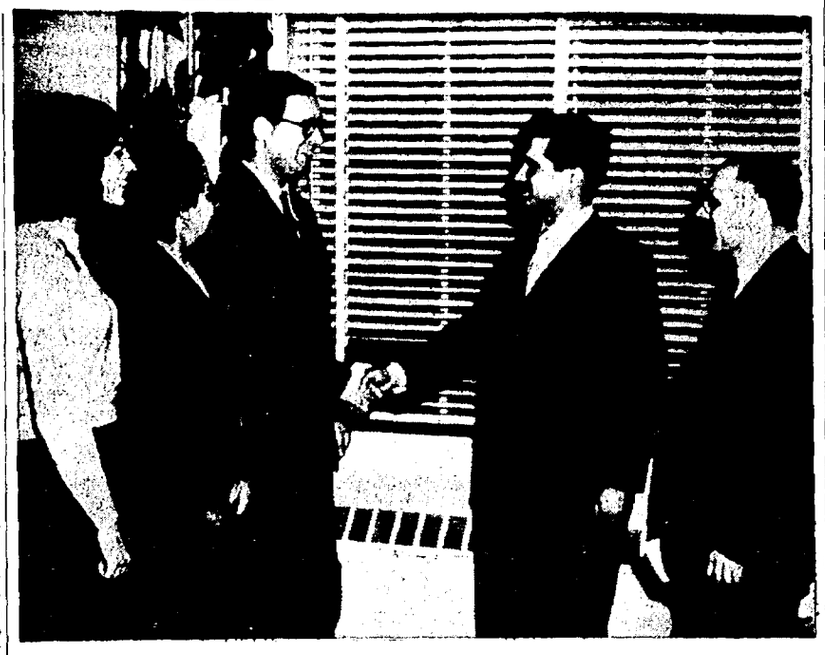
EAST STROUDSBURG — The Keystone Grenadiers Senior Drum and Bugle Corps will march for the third consecutive time in the annual Loyalty Day Parade on New York City's Park Avenue on May 2.

Harry Mullins, business manager, announced the corps will kick off its parade season March 15 at the annual St. Patrick's day celebration in Allentown.

He said the corp has planned an active season with appearances lined up in Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey and Delaware.

Any person over the age of 16 wishing to join the organization is urged to attend a practice session scheduled Sunday at 2 p.m. in the Acme parking lot at the Stroudsburg Shopping Center in Stroud Township, according to Mullins.

He said interested persons can also join the corps by reporting to the American Legion Home or the VFW any Wednesday between 7:30 and 9:30 p.m.



THANK YOU — World Outlook Club aides thank Dr. Christopher Kornaeos for talk to membership. Left to right, Joan Snyder vice-president of the World Outlook Club; Dr. Mary Pickard, club adviser; Calvin Reuss, president; Kornaros; and Dr. Kurt Wimer, head of the East Stroudsburg State College Social Studies Department.

The "Grand Canyon" of Pennsylvania, near Wellsboro in Harrison State Park, has a gorge almost 50 miles long and more than a thousand feet deep at some points.

Bethlehem, America's Christmas City has a star visible 15 miles.

College Units Hear Talk On Cyprus

EAST STROUDSBURG — The Social Studies Department and the World Outlook Club of East Stroudsburg State College presented the first of a lecture series Thursday with a lecture by Dr. Christopher Kornaros.

Dr. Kornaros spoke on the Cyprus problem before a group of students and visitors from the community.

Dividing his talk into five parts, Dr. Kornaros first discussed the history of Cyprus dating back to the Hellenistic civilization. Leading up to the present constitution on Cyprus, he then covered the construction and operation of the Cyprus government under the document.

Continuing with his third point Dr. Kornaros made comparisons of the Cyprus nation with many others. This brought into focus the present difficulties plaguing the nation today.

Concluding his talk, Kornaros presented conclusions and recommendations made by many sources.

Following his presentation, Dr. Kornaros answered questions from the audience.

Eagle Parley

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — The Fraternal Order of Eagles eastern regional conference will be held Saturday and Sunday in Wilkes-Barre. Wilkes-Barre Aerie 333 is host aerie for the conference.

East Bangor Ordinance Okays Auditor For Books

EAST BANGOR — East Bangor council approved an ordinance which enables council to appoint an accountant or certified public accountant to audit the borough acounts.

The action was taken at its meeting this week in the borough hall.

In other business council accepted the resignation of Councilman Leroy Tucker. His resignation is effective March 31.

Tucker gave his reason for resigning as the hours of council meetings and his employment conflict.

Council also voted to liquidate a bank note of $400 which had been incurred by the park association.

Council told Mrs. June Tucker, secretary, to write a letter of appreciation to Victor Saveri of East Bangor for his aid in having the guard rails installed on the highway between Bangor and East Bangor.

In other action council awarded a contract to Chain Link Fence Co. to install a new fence around the South Street Playground. The firm's bid was $393.01.

Other bidders were from Seal's, Inc., $450; Arbor Fence, $450; Steel Equipment and Fence Co., $4841 Cyclone Fence, $491; Anchor Fence, $543.22, and Playground Fence Co. $1,150.

Ralph Ackerman, tax collector, told the meeting that he had $481 in uncollectable real estate taxes during '963., and that they have been turned over to Northampton County for collection. He also reported $244.50 in occupation taxes and $270 per capita taxes that are delinquent and will be turned over to H.A. Berkheimer Associates for collection.

Kenneth Rutt, water committee chairman, said that a survey of the reservior will be made by the committee in the near future.

Donald Lang, property chairman, told the meeting that the stairs leading to the council chambers have been painted and that new stair treads will be installed by Fred Oyer, custodian.

Gordon Wilson, council resident, read a letter from the Bangor Exchange Club inviting council members to a dinner on March 11 at 6:30 p.m. in the White Horse Tavern, Wind Gap, when Claude W. Peters, executive director of the joint planning committee in Northampton and Lehigh Counties, will be the speaker.

Mrs. Tucker was also told to contact the area Blue Cross and Blue Shield office for information on insurance policies to cover borough employers.

The "balanced rock" near Marklesburg, a huge boulder weighing several tons, is balanced on the edge of a 200 foot cliff.

4 Enlist In Eastburg Company C

EAST STROUDSBURG — Four new members were enlisted in Co. C Pennsylvania National Guard in East Stroudsburg at the units meeting Monday night.

The new members are SP 4 James R. Fuller Jr. of East Stroudsburg; Pvt. Ronald L. Haffling of Pen Argyl; Pvt. Harry L. Motz Jr., of Stroudsburg, and Pvt. Joseph F. Saccon of Bangor.

The oath of enlistment was given to the new members by Capt. George P. Brodhead, commanding officer of the local unit.

Capt. Brodhead said, "There are some vacancies in the company, but Commanding General Henry Fluck has said enlistments will be cut-off very soon due to an overflow of response of young men joining the national guard. The commanding general has also stated that the division is well over its quota."

Brodhead added that five men from the unit have departed for six months training at Ft. Jackson, S.C. They left on Sunday, March 1.

The men are Pvts. David Rode Stroudsburg; Pvts, David Ser- and Albert Hartman, both of foss and Donald Dotter, both of Blakeslee, and Pvt. Lewis R. Davis, of Mt. Pocono.

THE POWER TO STAY

An anchor seems like dead weight, doesn't it?

But what mariner would sail without it? For an anchor is not dead weight. It commands the tremendous force of gravity in a wild, raging sea. It can grip solid land to fight driving wind or swirling current!

A few men have thought they could go farther faster without religious faith . . . until the squalls found them drifting helplessly on bitter shoals!

God gave us forces of motion and progress. We see . . . aspire . . . achieve.

But the power to go is treacherous without the power to stay.

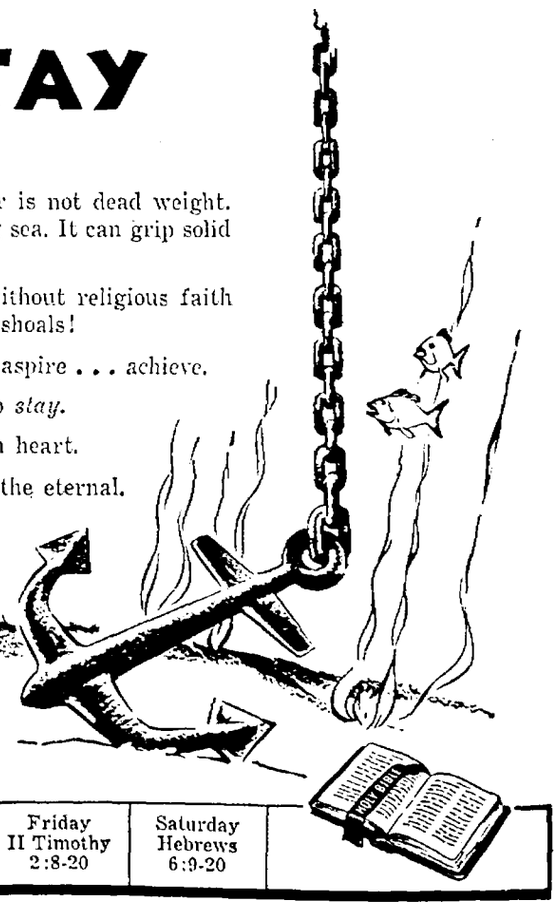
So God gave us the Truth our churches offer every human heart.

That Truth is man's spiritual grip on the enduring . . . the eternal.



THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church-regularly and read your Bible daily.
